B3. Prospects

LKL International's prospects remain positive, on increasing demand for high quality medical and healthcare products, and recovering economic conditions. The higher demand is driven by a growing ageing population in Malaysia and regional countries, improving disposable income levels, medical advancements, and increasing public health awareness.

The Malaysian Government and private entities are expected to increase investments in the medical and healthcare sector to support long term population needs. Also, Malaysia's targeted hospital bed-per-1000 population ratio (BPR) of 2.06 by 2025 from 1.98 in 2019 supports the positive outlook. These factors would contribute to more demand for our medical beds, peripherals and accessories.

To capture more growth opportunities, the Group is expanding our domestic sales and marketing efforts, and increasing participation in overseas trade exhibitions and roadshows as international border restrictions ease further.

While the Group continues to register healthy topline growth, our manufacturing segment faces higher costs for key raw materials, in line with ongoing economic and supply chain challenges faced by countries globally.

To mitigate the rising costs, the Group is enhancing our operating efficiency through investments in manufacturing automation, and implementing cost-control measures. Apart from efficiency improvement initiatives, the Group also seeks to expand enhance our product portfolio to cater to wider range of needs as well as higher-value segments.

The Group's forward strategy involves reinforcing our position as a reliable, one-stop solutions provider to the medical and healthcare industry. To achieve this, we strive to offer a more comprehensive range of products in our manufacturing and trading segments, as well as explore synergistic businesses. In respect of the pharmacy business, the Group will cautiously assess the demand from time to time to capture opportunities in the business-to-consumer segment.
