Individual Quarter -- Q2-FY2022 vs Q2-FY2021

The Group recorded an increase in revenue of 41.8% due to higher commodity prices during the quarter. The Group's FFB production in Q2-FY2022 was higher as compared to Q2-FY2021 mainly due to the recovery of FFB production in the Indonesian operations.

During the quarter, the Rupiah strengthened against both the US Dollar and the Japanese Yen, moving in an opposite direction as compared to the preceding year corresponding quarter. This resulted in net foreign exchange gains of RM7.743 million being recorded for the quarter on the foreign currency denominated borrowings as compared to the net foreign exchange losses of RM34.967 million recorded in Q2 FY2021.

As a result of the higher commodity prices coupled with the higher FFB production, the Group recorded a better financial performance during the quarter.

B1. Review of Performance (continued)

The performance by geographical segments is summarised as follows:

- (a) The Malaysian operations recorded an increase in revenue due to the higher commodity prices. As a result, a better financial performance was reported despite the lower FFB production and sales volume; and
- (b) The CPO export levy and tax imposed by the Indonesian authorities continued to cap the benefit of the high global CPO prices to upstream palm oil producers in the country. It has resulted in a reduction in revenue of approximately RM36.1 million during the current quarter in the Indonesian operations. FFB production in the Indonesian operations improved as compared to Q2-FY2021. Coupled with the higher commodity prices and net foreign exchange gains recorded on the foreign currency denominated borrowings, the overall financial performance for the quarter was significantly improved as compared to Q2-FY2021.

Cumulative Period -- Period FY 2022 vs Period FY 2021

The revenue of the Group was higher than that of the Period FY2021 due to the higher commodity prices. The FFB production was slightly lower mainly due to the tall palms effect in the Sugut region of the Malaysian operations.

The strengthening of the Rupiah against the US Dollar and the Japanese Yen during the period was lesser as compared to FY2021. As a result, lower net foreign exchange gains of RM11.545 million was recorded on the US Dollar and the Japanese Yen denominated borrowings (Period FY 2021: gains of RM56.776 million).

Despite the lower FFB production achieved and the lower net foreign exchange gains recorded on its foreign currency denominated borrowings, the overall financial performance of the Group improved as a result of the higher commodity prices.

The performance by geographical segment is summarised as follows:

- (a) The Malaysian operations recorded an increase in revenue as a result of the higher commodity prices. FFB production was lower mainly due to the tall palms effect in the Sugut region. Overall, a better financial performance was achieved during the Period FY 2022 due to the higher commodity prices; and
- (b) The Indonesian operations recorded higher revenue mainly due to higher commodity prices, though restricted by the Indonesian export levy and export tax. The revised export levy and export tax had resulted in reduced revenue to the Group of approximately RM90.5 million. Despite the lower net foreign exchange gains being recorded on its foreign currency denominated borrowings, the overall financial performance of the Indonesian operations improved as a result of the higher commodity prices and higher FFB production.

The revenue of the Group for Q2-FY2022 was higher than Q1-FY2022 mainly due to higher commodity prices.

As a result of the strengthening of the Rupiah against the US Dollar and Japanese Yen, net foreign exchange gains of RM7.743 million (Q1-FY2022: Gains of RM3.802 million) were recorded on its foreign currency denominated borrowings.

The overall financial performance of the Group was an improvement over the Q1-FY2022 mainly due to the higher commodity prices.

The performance by geographical segments is summarised as follows:

- (a) The Malaysian operations recorded higher revenue due to higher sales volume and higher commodity prices. Coupled with the higher FFB production, the overall financial performance was better than the Q1-FY2022; and
- (b) The revenue of the Indonesian operations was improved due to the higher commodity price despite lower sales volume. FFB production remained at the same level of that achieved in Q1-FY2022. Overall, a better financial performance was achieved as a result of the higher commodity prices.

B3. Prospects for the Current Financial Year

The Group is optimistic of a favourable financial performance for the current financial year based on market expectation that the palm product prices would remain elevated.

However, this is barring any volatility of the foreign exchange rates, particularly that of the Rupiah against the US Dollar and Japanese Yen, and any adverse weather impact disrupting crop production.

B4. Variance of Actual Profit from Forecast Profit

Not applicable.

(Company No: 198501000955 - [133399-A])

B12. Financial Instruments

(a) Crude Palm Oil Pricing Swap Contracts

The Group entered into Crude Palm Oil ("CPO") pricing swap contracts offered by certain reputable banks in Malaysia to mitigate the exposure to fluctuations in the price of CPO in accordance with the guidelines set by the Board of Directors. There is no change in the financial risk management and related accounting policy on the CPO pricing swaps since the end of the previous financial year.

As at the date of the statement of financial position, there are no outstanding CPO pricing swap contracts.

(b) Interest Rate Swap Contracts

The Group entered into Interest Rate Swap ("IRS") contracts offered by a reputable bank in Malaysia to mitigate the exposure to fluctuations in the interest rates of its US Dollar borrowings. The Group has entered into IRS contracts to swap a portion of its US Dollar borrowings which are under floating rates to fixed rates.

As at the date of the statement of financial position, there are no outstanding IRS contracts.
