6. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONT'D)

6.2 Basis of preparation of audited Combined Financial Statements (cont'd)

Basis of preparation under common control business combination and subsidiaries

A business combination involving entities under common control is a business combination in which all the combining entities or business are ultimately controlled by the same party or parties both before and after the business combination, and that control is not transitory. The Acquisition resulted in a business combination involving common control entities, and accordingly the accounting treatment is outside the scope of IFRS 3 Business Combination. For such common control business combinations, the merger accounting principles are applied to include the assets, liabilities, results, changes in equity and cash flows of the combining entities in the audited Combined Financial Statements.

In applying merger accounting, components of financial statements of the combining entities or businesses for the reporting period in which the common control combination occurs are included in the audited Combined Financial Statements of the combined entity as if the combination had occurred from the date when the combining entities or businesses first came under the control of the controlling party or parties.

A single uniform set of accounting policies is adopted by the combined entity. Therefore, the combined entity recognised the assets, liabilities and equity of the combining entities or businesses at the carrying amounts recognised previously in the audited Combined Financial Statements of the controlling party or parties prior to the common control combination. The carrying amounts are included as if such audited Combined Financial Statements had been prepared by the controlling party or parties, including adjustments required to conform to the combined entity's accounting policies and applying those policies to all periods presented.

There is no recognition of any goodwill or excess of the acquirer's interest in the net fair value of the acquiree's identifiable assets, liabilities and contingent liabilities over cost at the time of the common control combination. The effects of all transactions between the combining entities or businesses, whether occurring before or after the combination, are eliminated in preparing the audited Combined Financial Statements of the combined entity.

Subsidiaries are entities controlled by the Group. Control exists when the Group has the power to govern the financial and operating policies of an entity so as to obtain benefits from its activities. The existence and effect of potential voting rights that are currently exercisable or convertible are considered when assessing whether the Group control another entity.

Shares in subsidiaries are stated at cost less accumulated impairment losses, if any, on an individual subsidiary basis.

For acquisition of subsidiaries under common control, the identifiable assets and liabilities were accounted for at their carrying values, in a manner similar to the pooling-of-interest method of consolidation.

In preparing the audited Combined Financial Statements, transactions, balances and unrealised gains on transactions between the combining entities are eliminated. Unrealised losses are also eliminated but are considered an impairment indicator of the assets transferred.

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses, if any. The cost of an asset comprises its purchase price and any directly attributable costs of bringing the asset to the working condition and location for its intended use. Expenditure incurred after property, plant and equipment has been put into operation, such as repairs and maintenance, is normally charged to the income statement in the period in which it is incurred. In situations where it can be clearly demonstrated that the expenditure has resulted in an increase in the future economic benefits expected to be obtained from the use of the property, plant and equipment, and the expenditure of the item can be measured reliably, the expenditure is capitalised as an additional cost of that asset.

Depreciation is calculated on the straight-line basis to write off the cost of property, plant and equipment, less any estimated residual values, over the following estimated useful lives:

Plant and machinery	5 - 10 years
Office equipment	5 years
Moulding equipment	3 - 5 years
Motor vehicle	3 years

If there is a change in the level of usage and technological developments affecting the useful lives and the residual values of these assets, the residual values, useful lives and depreciation method will be reviewed and adjusted as appropriate at each balance sheet date.

For acquisition and disposal during the year, depreciation is provided from the month of acquisition and to the month before disposal respectively. Fully depreciated property, plant and equipment are retained in the books of accounts until they are no longer in use.

The gain or loss on disposal or retirement of an item of property, plant and equipment recognised in the combined income statement is the difference between the net sales proceeds and the carrying amount of the asset.

Impairment of non-financial assets

An assessment is made at each balance sheet date of whether there is any indication of impairment of the Group's property, plant and equipment and land use rights, or whether there is any indication that an impairment loss previously recognised for an asset in prior years may no longer exist or may have decreased. If any such indication exists, the asset's recoverable amount is estimated. An asset's recoverable amount is calculated as the higher of the asset's value in use or its net selling price.

An impairment loss is recognised only if the carrying amount of an asset exceeds its recoverable amount. An impairment loss is charged to the combined income statement in the period in which it arises.

A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount of an asset, and to the extent that the carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years.

A reversal of an impairment loss is credited to the combined income statement in the period in which it arises.

Financial assets

Financial assets which are within the scope of IAS 39, other than hedging instruments, are classified as either financial assets at fair value through income statement, loans and receivables, held-to-maturity investments, or available-for-sale financial assets. Financial assets which are initially recognised at fair value are assigned to the different categories by management on initial recognition, depending on the purpose for which the assets were acquired.

The designation of financial assets is re-evaluated and classification may be changed at the reporting date with the exception that the designation of financial assets at fair value through income statement is not revocable.

All financial assets are recognised when, and only when, the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. When financial assets are recognised initially, they are measured at fair value, plus directly attributable transaction costs.

De-recognition of financial assets occurs when the rights to receive cash flows from the assets expire or are transferred and substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred. At each of the balance sheet date, financial assets are reviewed to assess whether there is objective evidence of impairment. If any such evidence exists, impairment loss is determined and recognised. At the balance sheet date, the Group carries only loan and receivables on its balance sheet.

Loan and receivables

Loan and receivables are measured initially at fair value, and are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method. Appropriate allowances for estimated irrecoverable amounts are recognised in the combined income statement when there is objective evidence that the asset is impaired. The allowance recognised is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the effective interest rate computed at initial recognition.

Financial liabilities

The Group's financial liabilities include trade payables, accrued liabilities, bills payable and other payables, amount due to shareholders and borrowings. Financial liabilities are recognised when the Group becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the financial instrument.

Trade payables, accrued liabilities, bills payable and other payables

Trade payables, accrued liabilities, bills payable and other payables are initially measured at fair value, and subsequently measured at amortised cost, using the effective interest rate method.

Borrowings

Borrowings are recognised initially at fair value of proceeds received less attributable transaction costs, if any. Borrowings are subsequently carried at amortised cost. Any difference between the proceeds (net of transaction costs) and the redemption value is recognised in the income statement over the period of the borrowings using the effective interest method.

6.2 Basis of preparation of audited Combined Financial Statements (cont'd)

Inventories

Inventories are valued at the lower of cost and net realisable value. Cost incurred in bringing each product to its present location and conditions are accounted for as follows:

- (a) Raw materials at purchase cost on a weighted average basis; and
- (b) Finished goods and work in progress at cost of direct materials and labour and a proportion of manufacturing overheads based on normal operating capacity.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when present obligations will probably lead to an outflow of economic resources from the Group which can be estimated reliably. Timing or amount of the outflow may still be uncertain. A present obligation arises from the presence of a legal or constructive commitment that has resulted from past events.

Provisions are measured at the estimated expenditure required to settle the present obligation, based on the most reliable evidence available at the balance sheet date, including the risks and uncertainties associated with the present obligation. Any reimbursement expected to be received in the course of settlement of the present obligation is recognised as a separate asset, not exceeding the amount of the related provision. Where there are a number of similar obligations, the likelihood that an outflow of economic resources will be required in settlement of the obligations is determined by considering the class of obligations as a whole. In addition, long term provisions are discounted to their present values, where the effect of the time value of money is material.

All provisions are reviewed at the balance sheet date and adjusted to reflect the current best estimates.

In cases where the possible outflow of economic resources as a result of present obligations is considered impossible or remote, or the amount to be provided for cannot be measured reliably, no liability is recognised in the balance sheet, unless assumed in the course of a business combination.

Recognition of revenue

Revenue is recognised when it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Group and when the revenue can be measured reliably. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable and represents amounts receivable for goods and services provided in the normal course of business, net of trade discounts, sales rebates and sales related taxes on the following bases:

- (i) Revenue from the sale of goods is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership have been transferred to the buyer, provided that the Group maintains neither managerial involvement to the degree usually associated with ownership, nor effective control over the goods sold; and
- (ii) Interest income is recognised on a time-proportion basis, taking into account the principal outstanding and the effective interest rate applicable.

Income tax

Current tax

Current tax is the expected tax payable on the taxable income for the year, using tax rates enacted at the balance sheet date, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years. PRC corporate income tax is provided at rates applicable to an enterprise in the PRC on income for financial reporting purpose, adjusted for income and expenses items which are not assessable or deductible for income tax purposes.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is the tax expected to be payable or recoverable on differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities in the audited Combined Financial Statements and the corresponding tax bases used in the computation of taxable profit, and is accounted for using the balance sheet liability method. Deferred tax liabilities are generally recognised for all taxable temporary differences, and deferred tax assets are recognised to the extent that it is probable that taxable profits will be available against which deductible temporary differences can be utilised. Such assets and liabilities are not recognised if the temporary difference arises from the initial recognition of other assets and liabilities in a transaction that is not a business combination and that affects neither the tax profit nor the accounting profit.

The carrying amount of deferred tax assets is reviewed at the balance sheet date and reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that sufficient taxable profits will be available to allow all or part of the asset to be recovered. Any such reduction is reversed to the extent that it becomes probable that sufficient taxable profit will be available.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are not discounted. Deferred tax is calculated at the tax rates that are expected to apply in the year when the liability is settled or the asset realised. Deferred tax is charged or credited to the income statement, except when it relates to items charged or credited directly to equity, in which case the deferred tax is also dealt with in equity.

Value-added tax

The Group's sale of goods in the PRC are subjected to Value-added tax ("VAT") at the applicable tax rate of 17% for PRC domestic sales. Input VAT on purchases can be deducted from output VAT. The net amount of VAT recoverable from, or payable to, the taxation authority is included as part of "other receivables" or "other payables" in the balance sheet respectively.

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of VAT except where:

- VAT incurred on the purchase of assets or services is not recoverable from the taxation authority, in which case VAT is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of the expense item as applicable; and
- Receivables and payables are stated with the amount of VAT included.

Retirement benefits scheme

Pursuant to the relevant regulations of the PRC government, the Group participates in a local municipal government retirement benefits scheme (the "Scheme"), whereby the subsidiaries of the Company in the PRC are required to contribute a certain percentage of the basic salaries of its employees to the Scheme to fund their retirement benefits. The local municipal government undertakes to assume the retirement benefits obligations of all existing and future retired employees of the subsidiaries of the Company. The only obligation of the Group with respect to the Scheme is to pay the ongoing required contributions under the Scheme mentioned above. Contributions under the Scheme are charged to the income statement as incurred. There are no provisions under the Scheme whereby forfeited contributions may be used to reduce future contributions.

Foreign currencies

(i) Functional and presentation currency

Items included in the financial statements of each of the Group's entities are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the entity operates (the "functional currency"). The financial statements are presented in Renminbi and Ringgit Malaysia.

(ii) Transactions and balances

Foreign currency transactions are translated to the functional currencies of the entities using the exchange rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated at the closing rates ruling at the respective balance sheet dates. Foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from the settlement of such transactions and from the translation at year-end exchange rates of monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are recognised in the income statement.

Non-monetary items that are measured in terms of historical cost in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates as at the dates of the initial transactions. Non-monetary items measured at fair value in a foreign currency are translated using the exchange rates at the date when the fair value was determined.

(iii) Group companies

The results and financial positions of the Group entities that have functional currencies different from the presentation currency are translated into the presentation currency as follows:

- (1) Assets and liabilities for each balance sheet presented are translated at the closing rate at the date of that balance sheet;
- (2) Income and expenses for each income statement are translated at average exchange rates (unless this average is not a reasonable approximation of the cumulative effect of the rates prevailing on the transaction dates, in which case income and expenses are translated at the dates of the transactions); and
- (3) All resulting exchange differences are recognised as a separate component of equity.

Related parties

A party is considered to be related to the Group if:

- (i) directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, the party (1) controls, is controlled, or is under common control with, the Company/Group; (2) has an interest in the Company that gives it significant influence over the Company/Group; or (3) has joint control over the Company/Group;
- (ii) the party is an associate;
- (iii) the party is a jointly-controlled entity;
- (iv) the party is a member of the key management personnel of the Company or its parent;
- (v) the party is a close member of the family of any individual referred to in (i) or (iv);
- (vi) the party is an entity that is controlled, jointly controlled or significantly influenced by, or for which significant voting power in such entity resides with, directly or indirectly, any individual referred to in (iv) or (v); or
- (vii) the party is a post-employment benefit plan for the benefit of employees of the Company/Group, or of any entity that is a related party of the Company/Group.

Key management personnel

Key management personnel are those persons having the authority and responsibility for planning, directing and controlling the activities of the combined entity. Directors and certain general managers are considered as key management personnel.

Operating leases

Leases where substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of assets remain with the lessor are accounted for as operating leases. Annual rentals applicable to such operating leases are charged to the combined income statement on a straight-line basis over the lease terms except where an alternative basis is more representative of the pattern of benefits to be derived from the leased assets. Lease incentives received are recognised in the combined income statement as an integral part of the aggregate net lease payments made. Contingent rentals are charged to the combined income statement in the accounting period in which they are incurred.

Financial instruments

The recognition methods adopted of financial assets and liabilities are disclosed in the individual policy statements associated with each item. These instruments are recognised when contracted for.

Segment reporting

A operating segment is a distinguishable component of the Group that engages in business activities from which it may earn revenues and incur expenses (including revenues and expenses relating to transactions with other components of the same entity), whose operating results are regularly reviewed by the entity's chief operating decision maker to make decisions about resources to be allocated to the segment and assess its performance, and for which discrete financial information is available.

Equity

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Share capital is determined using the nominal value of shares that have been issued. Any transaction costs associated with the issuing of shares are deducted from the proceeds (net of any related income tax benefits) to the extent that they are incidental costs directly attributable to the equity transaction.

Retained earnings include all current and prior period results as determined in the combined income statement.

Cash and cash equivalents

For the purpose of the combined cash flow statement and balance sheet classification, cash and cash equivalents comprise cash on hand and in banks and deposit pledged.

Land use rights

Land use rights are stated at cost less accumulated amortisation and impairment losses, if any. Amortisation is charged so as to write off the cost of land use rights, using the straight-line method, over the period of the grant of 50 years, which is the lease term.

2.2 Components of Sports Shoe Soles

- Sports shoes are primarily protective footwear commonly made of soft and flexible material for the upper part of the shoe (called an upper) and relatively harder materials for the soles. It is designed for sporting and physical activities and differs from dress shoe in construction, design and style. Sports shoes are commonly used in sporting activities including running, walking, cross-training, hiking, basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, squash and other physical activities like ballet. However, it does not include football boots, ski boots and other sports shoes that require special fittings like spikes or cleats, or professional sports shoes which requires special certification from the China government.
- A sports shoe typically comprises two parts:
  - Upper;
  - Sole.
- A sports shoe sole comprises three parts:
  - Insole (sometimes referred to as inner sole) a thin layer of material that comes into contact with the sole of the foot, providing cushioning, comfort and hygiene to the wearer and is sometimes removable and washable.
  - Midsole is the middle layer of a sole often designed to provide cushioning and stability to the foot.
  - Outsole comes into direct contact with the ground and is often made of high wear resistance as well as good traction materials
- Multi Sports Group manufactures midsoles and outsoles for sports shoes.

2.3 Common Materials for Sports Shoe Soles

- Insole: As the objective of the insole is to provide cushioning, comfort and hygiene, insoles can be made from a variety of materials including, among others, the following:
  - mixture of cellulose material and rubber
  - woven materials primarily textile
  - microcellular polyurethane
  - non-woven, low density felt impregnated with rubber
  - latex sponge
  - EVA foam.
- Midsole: The midsoles of sports shoes are commonly made of Phylon, Polyurethane (PU), Phylite and Ethylene-Vinyl Acetate copolymer (EVA):
  - Phylon is a lightweight material made of EVA foam pellets that are compressed, expanded using heat and then allowed to cool in a mould.

11. INDEPENDENT MARKET RESEARCH REPORT (Cont'd)

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Creating Winning Business Solutions

- PU is a dense and heavy material used for midsoles. Its high density makes it the most durable material for midsoles.
- Phylite is made with a combination of 60% Phylon and 40% Rubber. Phylite is heavier than Phylon and lighter than rubber and can be used in midsoles and outsoles.
- EVA is light, soft and flexible. It is often used in running shoes due to its great combination of shock absorption and light-weight properties. Over time, EVA will compress and becomes flat as the air trapped inside is squeezed out. EVA compresses faster than most midsole materials.

Commonly, some of these materials are manufactured to have microcellular structures to provide better cushioning. For example, solid EVA is specially formed using an inert gas under high pressure to create small cells with diameter of approximately 10 microns but typically between 0.1 micron and 100 microns.

- Outsole: As the outsole comes into contact with the ground, materials used are expected to be lightweight, durable, provides traction and abrasion resistant. Common materials used to make outsoles for sports shoes include the following:
  - Latex Rubber: It can be synthetic or natural. Latex rubber provides great flexibility and durability as well as excellent bounce. It has good shock absorption and excellent surface grip. Some of the most common latex rubber compounds used for outsole include the following:
    - . Carbon Rubber: A synthetic rubber with added carbon black. The combination of these two materials creates a highly durable outsole. However, as the carbon does not bond with the synthetic rubber, it often leaves black marks on the floor.
    - . Solid Rubber: This is a blend of natural and synthetic rubber and is the most common outsole material. It offers high durability and good traction, although not as durable as Durable Rubber Compound, and as such, is particularly suited to indoor surfaces.
    - . Durable Rubber Compound: This is a heavy and dense material made from a blend of natural and synthetic rubber with special additives to make it more durable and abrasion resistant.

11. INDEPENDENT MARKET RESEARCH REPORT (Cont'd)

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Creating Winning Business Solutions

Duralon: This is a lightweight material made from blown synthetic rubber compound that creates tiny air pockets that provides cushioning. As it is soft, it is not as durable as other outsole materials and is mainly used for the forefoot area of running shoes.

Gum Rubber: This is a combination of natural and synthetic rubber, which is soft and provides very good traction. However its softness reduces its durability and is particularly suited for indoor court surfaces.

Thermoplastic Rubber (TPR): This is a material based on styrene-butadiene-styrene (synthetic rubber) block copolymers. Thermoplastic rubber displays rubber like properties and appearance. It is recyclable, lightweight, provides good traction and functions well under low temperature.

- Multi Sports Group mainly uses Latex Rubber in the form of solid rubber, durable rubber compound and TPR, and EVA and Phylon as the raw materials for the manufacturing of sports shoe soles.

2.4 Manufacturing Methods

- The most common methods for the manufacture of midsoles and outsoles are depicted in the figure below:

- Injection moulding is a process whereby the moulding material is heated to a liquid state and is injected into the cavity of a mould where it is cooled and hardened to the shape and pattern of the mould.
- Extrusion moulding is a process whereby the moulding material is heated into a liquid form and forced through a shaped die and then passed through a series of cooling trays and jigs to produce a continuous shape and constant cross-section profile.

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

- Thermoforming is a process of forming or moulding a heated plastic sheet placed over the mould. The application of vacuum or air pressure pushes the heated sheet against the wall of the mould such that the heated sheet conforms to the contour of the mould.
- Multi Sports Group uses Injection Moulding and Thermoforming processes for the manufacture of midsoles and outsoles.

2.6 Vertical Structure of the Footwear Industry

- The Footwear Industry can also be vertically extended to include upstream, midstream and downstream activities. These are as depicted in the diagram below:

- The manufacturing of footwear can be segmented into the following:
  - Upstream activities;
  - Midstream activities;
  - Downstream activities.
- Multi Sports Group is involved in midstream activities in the manufacturing of footwear components, namely sports shoe soles.

11. INDEPENDENT MARKET RESEARCH REPORT (Cont'd)

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Upstream

- Upstream activities primarily involve the supply of raw materials including:
  - Base raw materials for example:
    - . Natural rubber such as ribbed smoke sheer and pale crepe;
    - . Synthetic rubber including styrene butadiene rubber (SBR), butadiene acrylonitrile, polychloroprene, polyisoprene and polybutadiene;
    - . Leather (not commonly used for sports shoes);
    - . Textiles (not commonly used for sports shoes);
    - . Ethylene vinyl acetate copolymer (EVA);
    - . Polyvinyl chloride (PVC) (not commonly used for sports shoes);
    - . Polyurethane (PU);
    - . Thermoplastic Rubber (TPR).
  - Additives are used to improve mechanical and physical properties, as well as appearance. Some examples of additives include fillers, pigments, accelerator, activator, antioxidant, plasticiser, blowing agent, stabiliser, vulcanising agent, dusting agent, catalyst, cross linking, chain extending agents, colorants, flame retardant and smoke suppressant.
  - Other raw materials include threads, adhesives, metal and other processing aids like lubricants used during compounding of base raw materials.

Midstream

- Midstream activities involve the manufacturing of footwear components such as soles, heels and grommets (eyelets).
- Midstream activities also include the manufacturing of semi-finished footwear materials such as semi-finished leather and semi-finished textile cloth.
- Midstream activities also involve the manufacturing of finished products such as sandals, slippers, boots, shoes, industrial footwear, therapeutic footwear and footwear accessories.

Downstream

- Downstream activities involve the marketing, distribution and retailing of footwear. Marketing and distribution activities are usually undertaken by agents, importers, exporters, stockists and wholesalers.

3. SUBSTITUTE PRODUCTS

- There are no substitutes for sports shoe soles, as they are an integral part of sports shoes.
- Nevertheless, there are many alternative materials, methods of manufacturing, construction and design, thus providing choices in types, properties, characteristics and aesthetics of sports shoe soles.
  - Besides ethylene vinyl acetate (EVA), rubber (RB) and thermoplastic rubber (TPR) and polyurethane (PU) are common materials used in the manufacturing of sports shoe soles.
  - PU based sports shoe soles provide good dimension stability, durability, flexibility, shock absorption and cushioning. They are also highly resistant to abrasion, weather and temperature. However, it is also one of the most expensive materials used in the production of sports shoe soles.
  - EVA based sports shoe soles are lightweight, resistant to wear and tear, and dimensionally stable with adequate cushioning.
  - TPR based sports shoe soles are very lightweight, durable and flexible. They also provide good traction even under cold conditions.
  - RB based sports shoe soles are one of the cheapest materials. They are highly resistant to wear and tear, and possess the highest tensile strength. However, they provide less dimensional stability, cushioning and shock absorption capability compared to other materials.

4. GOVERNMENT REGULATIONS, POLICIES AND INCENTIVES

4.1 Business Licence

- Application of a business licence with the Administration of Industry and Commerce is required for establishing an enterprise in China.
- Multi Sports Group's subsidiary, Jinjiang Baixing Shoes Materials Co Ltd has obtained a business licence from the Quanzhou Administration of Industry and Commerce in China, which is valid from 28 May 2004 until 27 May 2034.

4.3 Environmental Regulations

- As part of the process of manufacturing sports shoe soles, Multi Sports Group creates waste in the form of off-cuts. These off-cuts are then collected and sold to external parties for recycling purposes.

9. COMPETITION

9.1 Nature of Competition in the Industry

- Manufacturers of sports shoe soles in China operate under normal competitive conditions similar to a free enterprise environment where there are no undue government regulations or licensing requirements and operators may freely enter or leave the industry.

9.2 Factors of Competition

- As with most free enterprise environment, the factors used to compete and to differentiate one operator from another include the following:
  - product quality;
  - cost competitiveness;

11. INDEPENDENT MARKET RESEARCH REPORT (Cont'd)

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Creating Winning Business Solutions

- design capabilities;
- research and development;
- track record.

9.3 Impact of Factors of Competition on Multi Sports Group

- Product Quality

Product quality is important as sports shoe soles are regarded as critical components of sports shoes. Sports shoe soles have specific functions, which contributes to the overall performance of the shoe. For example, the midsole provides cushioning and stability to the foot, while the outsole is designed to provide traction and abrasion resistance. As such, quality of materials used and design of the soles are critical to the finished products.

Manufacturers with stringent quality assurance programmes and certifications in place with in-house quality tests and inspections will be in a better position to compete effectively and win new customers.

In 2008, the Group's subsidiary, Jinjiang Baixing Shoes Materials Co Ltd has been accredited with 'Quality Reliable Products' award by China Industry Product Guarantee Centre. The quality award of Multi Sports Group is an endorsement of the quality assurance system that is in place for the manufacturing of sports shoe soles. This award provides customers with the assurance of Multi Sports Group's product quality. In addition, Multi Sports Group has also implemented rigorous process of quality assurance, checks and inspections starting from in-coming raw materials through to the various production processes and finished products.

- Cost Competitiveness

Manufacturers that are able to provide cost competitive solutions would have a significant competitive advantage. The need for cost competitive manufacturers is partly driven by the rising cost of raw materials used in producing shoes coupled with the competition from other manufacturers.

Multi Sports Group is able to provide cost competitive sports shoe soles based on economies of scale derived from its large volume production. For the financial year ended 31 December 2008, the Group produced approximately 22 million pairs of sports shoe soles. The large volume production enables the Group to buy raw materials at competitive costs, and also spread its fixed costs over a larger number of units of output.

- Design Capabilities

Design of shoe soles requires a certain level of technical skills, expertise, and specialised systems. For example, the design phase would require experience, skills and expertise in conceptualising desirable designs based on existing or emerging trends. These are then translated into shoe sole designs using computer aided design (CAD) systems. This would allow the

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Creating Winning Business Solutions

manufacturer to create two and three dimension computer generated solid state prototypes to facilitate dimensioning, multizoning and accurate scaling, and colour and material combinations. Designing of shoe sole is essential, especially for sports shoes as it affects the shoe style, ergonomics, function, durability and customer acceptance.

As such, a sports shoe soles manufacturer with in-house design facilities and capabilities would serve as an essential value-adding to their customers who are mainly sports shoe manufacturers.

The Group has made significant investments in design facilities including CAD systems as well as design personnel. As at 20 June 2009, Multi Sports Group has six personnel involved in the design of sports shoe soles.

• Research and Development

There are three main drivers of sports shoes that make research and development an important competitive factor, namely:

- Sports shoes are fashion items;
- Sports shoes provide support and protection for the feet and legs;
- Competition continuously place pressure on costs.

These three drivers, among others, have necessitated research and development of sports shoes, including soles. Research and development is essential in creating new designs and using new materials that meet customer needs for fashion, function, ergonomics and cost considerations.

As such, sports shoe soles manufacturers with in-house research and development facilities and capabilities would be in a better position to continuously come out with better and more desirable products that meet the changing needs of customers.

In this respect, Multi sports Group has in-house research and development facilities and capabilities to design as well as manufacture sports shoe soles to meet the requirements of its customers.

• Track Record

Customers would normally select manufacturers with a strong track record. This is particular critical, as customers would normally place large orders to be delivered in a relatively short period of time. As such, manufacturers that are able to deliver on time, on budget and providing quality products would have a significant advantage.

Multi Sports Group has a track record of approximately 16 years in providing sports shoe soles to sports shoe manufacturers. Over the years, the Group has undertaken manufacturing of sports shoe soles for manufacturers including Guohui, 361° and Xdlong. Its track record combined with its reference site of customers would provide the Group with a competitive advantage to win new customers.

9.4 Competitive Intensity

- Competition among manufacturers of sports shoe soles within the Footwear Industry in China is based on the following observations:
  - Competition primarily comes from other manufacturers of shoe soles in China, particularly in Jinjiang City within Fujian province. This is because Jinjiang is regarded as the centre of footwear manufacturing in China, and Multi Sports Group's manufacturing operations are located in Jinjiang City. In Jinjiang City., there are an estimated 3,000 shoe manufacturing companies producing an estimated 700 million pairs of shoes per year (Source: China Leather Industry Association).
  - A large and growing market of footwear manufacturers would be able to accommodate a relatively large number of manufacturers of sports shoe soles within the industry. This may somewhat mitigate the competitive intensity.
- In 2007, the gross industrial output value of the manufacture of textile wearing apparel, footwear and caps in China amounted to RMB760.0 billion. (Source: National Bureau of Statistics of China)
- The production statistics on rubber shoes includes among others, sports shoes but excludes professional sports shoes, which requires special certification from the Government of China. Between 2002 and 2006, the production quantity of rubber shoes (including sports shoes) in China grew at an average of 13.5%. In 2006, the production quantity of rubber shoes in China increased by 28.7% to reach 1.6 billion pairs.
- Multi Sports Group is located in Jinjiang City within Fujian Province. In Jinjiang, there are an estimated 3,000 shoe manufacturers producing an estimated 700 million pairs of shoes per year. (Source: China Leather Industry Association) This provides significant opportunities for shoe soles manufacturers in Jinjiang to service a large user industry.
- Between 2002 and 2006, the production of leather shoes in China grew at an average annual rate of 18.5%. In 2006, the production of leather shoes in China increased by 18.9% to reach 3.0 billion pairs. (Source: National Bureau of Statistics of China)
- Technical skills and knowledge required also forms a barrier to entry, therefore this somewhat reduces the competitive intensity.

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

- Competition also comes from imports of shoe soles. In 2008, import value of rubber and plastics outer soles and heels amounted to USD71.8 million (equivalent to RMB491.4 million). In 2008, China imports its rubber and plastics outer soles and heels from Taiwan, Korea, Vietnam, Italy, Japan, United States and other overseas countries. (Source: China Customs) Nevertheless, imports are relatively small and as such competition from imports is minimal.

9.5 Players in the Industry

- Some of the players within the manufacturing of shoe soles in China include the following (in alphabetical order):

10. BARRIERS TO ENTRY

10.1 Capital and Set-up Costs

- The barrier to entry into the manufacture of sports shoe soles within the Footwear Industry is moderate from the capital and set-up cost perspective.
- The capital cost of setting-up a small-scale manufacturing plant in China to produce sports shoe soles would be approximately RMB30 million (excluding land and building). This would include:
  - One line of injection moulding machinery and equipment and one line of thermoforming machinery and equipment for approximately RMB20 million;
  - Working capital of approximately RMB10 million.

With this capital set-up cost, the small-scale manufacturing plant would be capable of producing approximately 300,000 pairs of sports shoe soles per year and the revenue generated from this plant is estimated at RMB3 million per year.

(Source: Multi Sports Group)

- At this level of entry, which is small, the manufacturing plant is restricted in terms of capacity. Capital costs would start to escalate for those who want to generate a higher volume of output to achieve economies of scale.
- Smaller manufacturers would also find it difficult to compete with larger manufacturers as they are unable to fulfil larger volume orders within a short period of time.

10.2 Technical Expertise

- Technical skills and knowledge are required in design, research and development, and manufacturing of sports shoe soles.
- Designs of shoe soles are essential and covers functionality, ergonomics, style, aesthetics and ultimately customer acceptance. Having in-house design capabilities would provide a significant complementary value-adding function to sports shoe manufacturers. Larger and more established manufacturers are more likely to have in-house design development capabilities compared to smaller manufacturers.
- Technical skills to undertake research and development are also essential to keep ahead of the competition. This is particularly important in keeping up with fashion trends, improvements in ergonomic designs and using new materials to continuously come up with better and more desirable products.
- Manufacturing expertise such as those required in injection moulding and thermoforming also play major roles in ensuring products meet specified properties and features including density, elongation, microcellular structures, anti-abrasion, dimensional stability, and toughness.

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

- Technical expertise in selecting the choice of raw materials, and using improved materials for sports shoe soles is also very important to the saleability of the product. This is due to the significant amount of developments in materials used to provide better and sometimes cheaper materials for the manufacture of sports shoe soles.
- Sports shoe sole is a critical component of the total sports shoe, particularly due to the importance in providing comfort, safety, ergonomics, cushioning against the jarring impact of walking or running, and the requirement for withstanding wear and tear due to the abrasive action of coming into direct contact with the ground. In addition, sports shoe soles play a key part in the overall aesthetics and fashion trend of sports shoe.
- Technical expertise, skills and knowledge from design, manufacturing and use of raw materials are key in creating a quality and desirable product, and thus could pose as a barrier to entry for new entrants.

10.3 Track Record

- Track record forms one of the barriers to entry for new entrants. It would be difficult for a new entrant to compete effectively in the market.
- A manufacturer with a track record as a reliable supplier providing consistently high quality products would be in a significant better position in winning sales compared to new entrants.

10.4 Product Quality

- As sports shoe soles are key components of the total sports shoes, the quality of the soles is critical.
- Quality of sports shoe soles is critical as they are subjected to continuous vigorous action and significant wear and tear, while at the same time expected to provide comfort, safety and protection to the feet, ankles and knees of wearers.
- As such, manufacturers that have stringent quality assurance programmes in place and compliance to standards are important factors in securing sales orders. Manufacturers that able to continuously meet quality expectations of customers are in a stronger position to compete effectively.

11. RELIANCE ON AND VULNERABILITY TO IMPORTS

- Generally, manufacturers of sports shoe soles in China source a significant proportion of their raw materials locally in China. Some of the major raw materials used for the manufacture of sports shoe soles include:
  - Plastic resins and additives such as PU, EVA and phylon;
  - Natural rubber in the form of ribbed smoke sheet and pale crepe;

- Synthetic rubber such as styrene butadiene rubber, acrylonitrile butadiene, styrene-butadiene-styrene synthetic rubber block copolymer (TPR), chloroprene, polyisoprene and polybutadiene.
- Multi Sports Group mainly uses natural rubber in the form of solid rubber and durable rubber compound, synthetic rubber in the form of TPR, and plastic resins and additives in the form of EVA and phylon.
- Raw materials particularly in the form of plastic resins and synthetic rubber can be sourced locally in China. This is supported by the following observations:
  - In 2007, China's production of primary plastics increased by 22.4% to reach 31.8 million tonnes. Manufacturers of sports shoe soles can source these primary plastics from various locations within China, including Jiangsu, Shanghai, Guangdong, Shandong, Zhejiang, Tianjin, Beijing, Liaoning, Heilongjiang, Gansu, Xinjiang, Henan and others.
- Nevertheless, China also imports a significant amount of raw materials to meet its overall manufacturing needs. In 2007, import statistics of some of the selected primary plastics in China are as follows:
  - Imports of polyethylene (PE) in primary forms in China amounted to USD3.9 billion (equivalent to RMB26.7 billion).
  - Import value of polystyrene (PS) in primary forms in China amounted to USD5.9 billion (equivalent to RMB40.4 billion).
  - Import value of ABS copolymers in China amounted to USD3.6 billion (equivalent to RMB24.6 billion).

12. INDUSTRY OUTLOOK

General Overview

- In light of the current global financial crisis that has affected China economy, the outlook of the Footwear Industry in China may be challenging for the short to medium term.
- Worsening global economic conditions resulted in slower growth for the China economy during the fourth quarter of 2008. Real GDP growth slowed to 6.8% during the fourth quarter of 2008 bringing the overall 2008 GDP growth to 9.0%, the lowest in seven years. This is low in comparison to the previous year where GDP grew by 17.9%.
- A slowdown in the global and China economies may lead to a slowdown in the footwear including the Sports Shoe Industry.

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

- Nevertheless, the outlook for the Footwear Industry in China is expected to improve when China and global economies rebound. This is primarily predicated by the position of China as the world's manufacturing source of footwear, and is further substantiated by the following observations during normal economic conditions:

Production

- Between 2003 and 2007, the gross output value of the manufacture of textile wearing apparel, footwear and caps in China increased at an average annual rate of 22.0%. In 2007, the gross output value of this sector grew by 23.4% to reach RMB760.0 billion.
- The production statistics on rubber shoes includes among others, sports shoes but excludes professional sports shoes, which requires special certification from the Government of China.
- Between 2002 and 2006, the production quantity of rubber shoes (including sports shoes) in China grew at an average of 13.5%. In 2006, the production quantity of rubber shoes in China increased by 28.7% to reach 1.6 billion pairs.

(Source: National Bureau of Statistics of China)

Demand

- Between 2004 and 2007, the retail value of clothing, shoes, hats and textiles grew at an average annual rate of 20.4%. In 2007, the retail value of clothing, shoes, hats and textiles increased by 25.5% to reach RMB302.4 billion.
- Between 2003 and 2007, per capita annual purchase of shoes by urban households in China grew at an average annual rate of 1.5%. In 2007, per capita annual purchase of shoes by urban households in China increased by 4.2% to reach 2.74 pairs.
- Between 2003 and 2007, per capita annual consumption expenditure on shoes by urban households in China increased at an average annual rate of 15.0%. In 2007, per capita annual consumption expenditure on shoes by urban households in China grew by 17.9% to reach RMB242.6.

Exports

- Between 2004 and 2007, the export value of footwear, gaiters and the like, and parts of such articles increased at an average annual rate of 15.6%. In 2007, the export value of these articles grew by 11.2% to reach RMB194.3 billion.
- Between 2004 and 2008, the export value of rubber and plastic outer soles and heels increased at an average annual rate of 39.3%. In 2008, export value of rubber and plastic outer soles and heels grew by 54.4% to reach USD583.9 million (RMB4.0 billion). In 2008, China's export markets for rubber and plastic outer soles and heels include, among others, Russia, United States, Hong Kong, Japan, Vietnam, Malaysia, India, Germany, United Arab Emirates, Indonesia, Singapore, the United Kingdom and Spain.

(Source: National Bureau of Statistics of China and China Customs)

Economic Conditions in China relative to Global Conditions

- Despite experiencing a slow down in GDP in 2008, China's GDP continues to be relatively more robust at 9.0% growth compared to the GDP growth of some of the more advanced economies, for example:
  - USA = 1.6%
  - UK = 1.0%
  - Japan = 0.5%

(Source: International Monetary Fund).
- For the first quarter of 2009, China's GDP registered a growth of 6.1% compared to the same period in 2008. China is forecasted to achieve a continuing growth of 8.3% in 2009 while many more advanced countries expect very low or negative GDP growth for 2009, for example:
  - USA = 0.1%
  - UK = -0.1%
  - Japan = 0.5%

(Source: International Monetary Fund).
- In addition, with an economic slowdown, there is a possibility that consumers in China would trade down from buying overseas branded sports shoes to buying lower cost branded sports shoes.
- As such, manufacturers whose main markets are in China would be in a better position to ride through the current global economic slowdown. The relatively better outlook is further boosted by the large population of China, which registered 1.3 billion persons in 2007 (Source: National Bureau of Statistics of China).

13. THREATS AND RISKS ANALYSIS

13.1 Dependency on Supply of Raw Materials

- The manufacture of sports shoe soles is ultimately dependent on the availability of major raw materials such as plastics, and natural and synthetic rubber. Shortage in the supply of any one of these major raw materials may lead to a disruption in the manufacturing operations.

Mitigating Factors

- China has a significant oil and gas production industry, which serves as the feedstock for the manufacture of plastic resins and synthetic rubber. Between 2003 and 2007, China's production of primary plastics grew at an average annual rate of 17.8%. In 2007, China's production of primary plastics increased by 22.4% to reach 31.8 million tonnes. (Source: National Bureau of Statistics of China)
- Plastic resins and synthetic rubber are commodities and are easily available in the world market. In 2007, China's import of plastics and articles amounted to USD45.3 billion (equivalent to RMB347.7 billion). This includes imports of primary products such as PE, PS, PP and PVC in primary forms, and ABS copolymer, and other plastic based products. (Source: National Bureau of Statistics of China)
- China also produces its own natural rubber and ranks fifth in the world for the production of natural rubber. Nevertheless, due to its large manufacturing base, China supplements its requirements for natural rubber through imports from Indonesia, Thailand and Malaysia, the world's top three largest producer of natural rubber.
- Thus, as the main raw materials are commodities and are readily available in China and elsewhere in the world, the threat from shortage of supply of key raw materials is minimised.

13.2 Fluctuation in Prices of Raw Materials and Petroleum

- Petroleum products are the major feedstock for plastic resins and synthetic rubber used in the manufacture of sports shoe soles. Thus, the prices of plastic resins and synthetic rubber, including EVA, PU and TPR are therefore dependent on the price of petroleum.
- Plastic resins and synthetic rubber are commodities and they are also subjected to fluctuations in world prices.
- In some situations, increases in the price of raw materials are not easily passed onto customers. This could have an impact on margins. Alternatively, if the increase in cost is passed onto customers, the manufacturer may not be price competitive.

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Creating Winning Business Solutions

Mitigating Factors

- Manufacturers with strong financial strength may be able to purchase and maintain stocks of key raw materials to create some cushion against price fluctuations, especially in the short term.
- In addition, as these raw materials are commodities and therefore subjected to world prices, all manufacturers that use these materials are affected equally.

13.3 Global Financial Crisis

- Any prolonged and/or widespread downturn such as those of the recent global financial turmoil has affected China and the global economies. Shoes are consumer-based products and any downturn in China and global economies will reduce disposable income and consumer confidence.
- A slowdown in China and global economies is likely to reduce demand for a wide range of products, including shoes, which would have an impact on manufacturers of sports shoe soles.

Mitigating Factors

- As shoes are regarded as necessity products, it is likely that consumer spending on these products will still continue, albeit at a lower expenditure level during an economic slowdown.
- In 2008, China experienced real GDP growth of 9.0% and is forecasted to grow by 8.3% in 2009. In contrast, many advanced economies experienced very low or negative GDP growth in 2008, and 2009 is expected to be similar (Source: Chinese Academy of Social Science and International Monetary Fund). As such, China's economy is expected to be better off compared to many of the more advanced economies.
- Manufacturers with strong product quality, financial stability, and diverse range of products and designs would be in a better position to withstand the impact of a slowdown in China and global economies.

13.4 Competition from Imports

- Imported shoe soles into China from overseas countries including Korea, Taiwan, Italy, and Vietnam would increase competition for manufacturers of sports shoe soles in China.
- In 2008, import value of rubber and plastic outer soles and heels amounted to USD71.8 million (equivalent to RMB491.4 million). (Source: China Customs)

11. INDEPENDENT MARKET RESEARCH REPORT (Cont'd)

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Creating Winning Business Solutions

Mitigating Factors

- China is one of the world's largest manufacturers of sports shoes. The sports shoe industry has matured significantly for China to meet the world's needs for sports shoes. This is substantiated by the fact that global prominent brands have significant proportions of their sports shoes manufactured in China to service the world market. As such, China is a key and net exporter of sports shoes. Thus imports do not pose as a major threat to China's footwear industry in general and specifically sports shoes and sports shoe soles. In addition, the amount of imports of shoe soles is relatively low to be a significant threat.

14. AREAS OF GROWTH AND OPPORTUNITIES

14.1 Product Diversification

- Product diversification presents opportunities for manufacturers to enlarge its customer base and more importantly, enable manufacturers to minimise risk of over dependency on certain products.
- Manufacturers who produce a diverse product range and applications are in a stronger position to sustain the business during the economic slowdown.

14.2 Use of New Materials for Sports Shoe Soles

- Developments in materials for sports shoe soles have been very significant over the years providing consumers with a wide range of materials to meet the functional, ergonomics and fashion requirements of sports shoes.
- Development of materials has moved from the use of natural rubber to incorporate engineered plastics and thermoplastic rubber. The introduction of microcellular structures in sports shoe soles is another example of innovations in enhancing the properties of raw materials to increase comfort, protection and stability for wearers.
- As such, there are significant opportunities in development of new or modified materials for sports shoe soles to continuously create excitement and demand for sports shoes.

14.3 Export Markets

- There are significant opportunities for manufacturers of sports shoe soles to expand into export markets. In 2008, export value of rubber and plastic outer soles and heels amounted to USD583.9 million (RMB4.0 billion). (Source: China Customs)

11. INDEPENDENT MARKET RESEARCH REPORT (Cont'd)

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Creating Winning Business Solutions

- In 2008, China's export markets for rubber and plastic outer soles and heels include, among others, Russia, United States, Hong Kong, Japan, Vietnam, Malaysia, India, Germany, United Arab Emirates, Indonesia, Singapore, the United Kingdom and Spain. (Source: China Customs)
- The United States is regarded as one of the highest consumer of shoes on a per capita basis. Between 2004 and 2006, per capita expenditure on shoes in the United States increased at an average annual rate of 5.9% amounting to USD58.20 (equivalent to RMB398.20) in 2006. (Source: U.S Census Bureau)
- Exports into overseas countries will open up a significantly larger market for sports shoes as well as sports shoe sole manufacturers in China

14.3 China Market

- There continues to be opportunities in the China market for shoes as indicated by the comparison of per capita expenditure of shoes in China compared to the United States:
  - In 2006, per capita annual expenditure of shoes in the United States amounted to USD58.20 (equivalent to RMB398.20), which is about two times higher than China's per capita annual expenditure by urban households at RMB205.8.
- As a country's per capita GDP increases, expenditure on shoes are likely to increase as shoes become fashion accessories to more affluent people in contrast to shoes being a functional item to protect the feet.

15. CRITICAL SUCCESS FACTORS

Critical success factors for manufacturers of sports shoe soles include the following:

- Commitment to High Quality: To ensure optimal performance and reliability of products, manufacturers must be committed to deliver consistently high quality products to customers. Manufacturers of sports shoe soles who adopt stringent controls in their manufacturing processes and have obtained recognised quality accreditations and awards to reflect their commitment to excellence are in the better position to meet customers' requirements.
- Established Track Record: The manufacture of sports shoe soles in China is a competitive industry with many operators. Manufacturers of sports shoe soles service a relatively large market of shoe manufacturers in China. This is particularly true in Jinjiang within the Fujian province in China where there are an estimated 3,000 manufacturers of footwear. As such, other than possessing design, research and development, and manufacturing capabilities, a reputable track record is key in securing sales orders, particularly from new customers.

VITAL FACTOR CONSULTING

Creating Winning Business Solutions

- Financial Stability: Manufacturers in a healthy financial position are more likely to retain and attract new customers. Potential customers would emphasise financial stability as a key criterion in the evaluation of a prospective supplier as they would not want any disruption in the supply of sports shoe soles. In addition, a financially strong manufacturer would be in a better position to upgrade its manufacturing capabilities, if necessary, to keep abreast with technology, changes in production or to meet demand for increased capacity.

16. MARKET SIZE AND SHARE

16.1 Market Size

- In 2008, the market size of the footwear industry in China was estimated at 10 billion pairs based on production. (Source: China Leather Industry Association)
- In 2008, the market size of the rubber/plastic shoes (include, among others, sports shoes) industry in China was estimated at 2.1 billion pairs based on production. Rubber/plastic shoes are a sub-sector of the total footwear industry in China. (Source: National Bureau of Statistics of China and computed by Vital Factor Consulting Sdn Bhd)

16.2 Market Share

- In 2008, Multi Sports Group had a market share of approximately 0.2% of the footwear soles sector in China based on its production output of 22 million pairs of sports shoe soles.
- In 2008, Multi Sports Group had a market share of approximately 1% of the rubber/plastic shoe soles sector in China based on its production output of 22 million pairs of sports shoe soles.

(iii) Share rights and restrictions

The Company currently has only one class of shares, namely ordinary shares.

(a) Dividends and distributions (Bye-laws 15A(2), 17(2), 135, 136, 137, 138, 139, 141 and 142)

Notwithstanding any provision in the Bye-laws to the contrary, a Depositor (as defined in the Bye-laws) whose name appears in the Register of Members of the Company (which includes, where applicable, any branch register of members of the Company kept pursuant to the Bermuda Companies Act) (the "Register") shall be entitled to all rights (including voting and other rights), benefits, powers and privileges and be subject to all liabilities, duties and obligations in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security (as defined in the Bye-laws) registered in the Depositor's name (whether conferred or imposed by the Bermuda Companies Act, the memorandum of association of the Company or the Bye-laws, or otherwise) as if such Depositor is the sole holder of such deposited security. Notwithstanding that the Depository (as defined in the Bye-laws) is named in the Register as the joint holder of any deposited security, the Depository shall not be entitled to any rights (including voting and other rights), benefits, powers and privileges in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security and nor shall the Depository be subject to any liabilities, duties and obligations in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security.

Where a share stands in the names of two or more persons, the person first named in the Register shall as regards service of notices and, subject to the provisions of these Bye-laws, all or any other matters connected with the Company, except the transfer of the shares, be deemed the sole holder thereof, save that in respect of any deposited security which is jointly held by the Depository and a Depositor, the Depositor named in the Register as the joint holder of the deposited security shall as regards service of notices and, subject to the provisions of the Bye-laws, all or any other matters connected with the Company, be deemed to be the sole holder thereof.

13. FURTHER STATUTORY AND OTHER GENERAL INFORMATION (Cont'd)

Holders of shares (other than the Depository) shall be entitled to share in the Company's profits by way of dividends declared or distributions approved by the Board or the Company in general meeting in accordance with the Bye-laws and the Bermuda Companies Act.

Subject to the Bermuda Companies Act and the Bye-laws, the Board may from time to time declare a dividend or other distribution in any currency to be paid to the members and such dividend or distribution may be in cash or wholly or partly in specie. Subject to the Bermuda Companies Act and the Bye-laws, the Company in general meeting may also from time to time declare dividends or other distributions to be paid to the members but no dividend or distribution shall be declared in excess of the amount recommended by the Board.

If at any time the share capital of the Company is divided into different classes, the Board may pay such dividends in respect of those shares in the capital of the Company which confer on the holders thereof deferred or non-preferential rights as well as in respect of those shares which confer on the holders thereof preferential rights with regard to dividends.

No dividend shall be paid or distribution made if to do so would render the Company unable to pay its liabilities as they become due or the realisable value of its assets would thereby become less than the aggregate of its liabilities and its issued share capital and share premium accounts.

Except in so far as the rights attaching to, or the terms of issue of, any share otherwise provide (i) all dividends shall be declared and paid according to the amounts paid up on the shares in respect of which the dividend is paid, but no amount paid up on a share in advance of calls shall be treated as paid up on the share; and (ii) all dividends shall be apportioned and paid pro rata according to the amounts paid up on the shares during any portion or portions of the period in respect of which the dividend is paid. The Board may deduct from any dividend or other moneys payable to a member by the Company on or in respect of any shares all sums of money (if any) presently payable by him to the Company on account of calls or otherwise.

Subject to Bye-law 141(2) of the Bye-laws, any dividend, interest or other sum payable in cash to the holder of shares may be paid by cheque or warrant sent through the post addressed to the holder at his registered address or, in the case of joint holders, addressed to the holder whose name stands first in the Register in respect of the shares at his address as appearing in the Register or addressed to such person and at such address as the holder or joint holders may in writing direct. Subject to Bye-law 141(2), every such cheque or warrant shall, unless the holder or joint holders otherwise direct, be made payable to the order of the holder or, in the case of joint holders, to the order of the holder whose name stands first on the Register in respect of such shares, and shall be sent at his or their risk and payment of the cheque or warrant by the bank on which it is drawn shall constitute a good discharge to the Company notwithstanding that it may subsequently appear that the same has been stolen or that any endorsement thereon has been forged. Any one of two or more joint holders may give effectual receipts for any dividends or other moneys payable or property distributable in respect of the shares held by such joint holders.

Bye-law 141(2) of the Bye-laws provides that any dividend, interest or other sum payable in cash to the holder of any deposited security which is jointly held by the Depository and a Depositor may be paid by cheque or warrant sent through the post addressed to the Depositor at his address as appearing in the Register in respect of such deposited security. Every such cheque or warrant shall, unless the Depositor otherwise directs, be made payable to the Depositor and shall be sent at his or their risk and payment of the cheque or warrant by the bank on which it is drawn shall constitute a good discharge to the Company notwithstanding that it may subsequently appear that the same has been stolen or that any endorsement thereon has been forged. A Depositor may give effectual receipts for any dividends or other moneys payable or property distributable in respect of the deposited security held by such Depositor.

All dividends or bonuses unclaimed for one year after having been declared may be disposed off in accordance with the provisions of the Unclaimed Moneys Act 1965 of Malaysia, which shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the Company.

(b) Voting rights (Bye-laws 15A(2), 58(5), 65, 73, 77(1) and 85(7))

Bye-law 15A(2) of the Bye-laws provides that notwithstanding any provision in the Bye-laws to the contrary, a Depositor whose name appears in the Register shall be entitled to all rights (including voting and other rights), benefits, powers and privileges and be subject to all liabilities, duties and obligations in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security registered in the Depositor's name (whether conferred or imposed by the Bermuda Companies Act, the memorandum of association of the Company or the Bye-laws, or otherwise) as if such Depositor is the sole holder of such deposited security. Notwithstanding that the Depository is named in the Register as the joint holder of any deposited security, the Depository shall not be entitled to any rights (including voting and other rights), benefits, powers and privileges in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security and nor shall the Depository be subject to any liabilities, duties and obligations in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security.

Bye-law 58(5) of the Bye-laws provides, inter alia, that in respect of each general meeting, the Company shall request the Depository in accordance with the rules of the Depository, to issue a Record of Depositors (as defined in the Bye-laws) as at the latest date which is reasonably practicable which shall in any event be not less than three (3) clear market days before that general meeting ("General Meeting Record of Depositors"). Subject to the Securities Industry (Central Depositories) (Foreign Ownership) Regulations 1996 of Malaysia as amended from time to time, notwithstanding any other provision of the Bye-laws, a Depositor shall not be entitled to attend any general meeting and to speak and vote thereat unless his name appears in the relevant General Meeting Record of Depositors.

Subject to Bye-law 15A(2), Bye-law 58(5) and Bye-law 73(2) and any special rights or restrictions as to voting for the time being attached to any shares by or in accordance with the Bye-laws, at any general meeting (i) on a show of hands every member present in person (or being a corporation, is present by a representative duly authorised under section 78 of the Bermuda Companies Act) or by proxy shall have one vote and the chairman of the meeting shall determine which proxy shall be entitled to vote where a member (other than Bursa Depository) is represented by two proxies, and (ii) on a poll every member present in person or by proxy or, in the case of a member being a corporation, by its duly authorised representative shall have one vote for every fully paid share of which he is the holder or which he represents and in respect of which all calls due to the Company have been paid, but so that no amount paid up or credited as paid up on a share in advance of calls or instalments is treated for the foregoing purposes as paid up on the share.

13. FURTHER STATUTORY AND OTHER GENERAL INFORMATION (Cont'd)

Subject to Bye-law 73(2) of the Bye-laws, where there are joint holders of any share, any one of such joint holder may vote, either in person or by proxy, in respect of such share as if he were solely entitled thereto, but if more than one of such joint holders be present at any meeting the vote of the senior who tenders a vote, whether in person or by proxy, shall be accepted to the exclusion of the votes of the other joint holders, and for this purpose seniority shall be determined by the order in which the names stand in the Register in respect of the joint holding.

Bye-law 73(2) of the Bye-laws provides that where the Depository is a joint holder of any deposited security with a Depositor, only the Depositor may vote, either in person or by proxy, in respect of such deposited security as if he were the sole holder thereof.

Any member entitled to attend and vote at a meeting of the Company who is the holder of two or more shares shall be entitled to appoint not more than two proxies to attend and vote instead of him at the same general meeting, provided that if the member is an authorised nominee as defined under the Securities Industry (Central Depositories) Act 1991 of Malaysia as amended from time to time (the "Central Depositories Act"), it may appoint at least one (1) proxy to attend and vote at the same general meeting in respect of each Securities Account (as defined in the Bye-laws) it holds with ordinary shares of the Company standing to the credit of that Securities Account.

The Bye-laws provide that the appointment of each Director shall be voted on individually except in the election of two or more Directors by ballot or poll.

(c) Share in surplus upon liquidation (Bye-laws 15A(2) and 163)

Bye-law 15A(2) of the Bye-laws provides that notwithstanding any provision in the Bye-laws to the contrary, a Depositor whose name appears in the Register shall be entitled to all rights (including voting and other rights), benefits, powers and privileges and be subject to all liabilities, duties and obligations in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security registered in the Depositor's name (whether conferred or imposed by the Bermuda Companies Act, the memorandum of association of the Company or the Bye-laws, or otherwise) as if such Depositor is the sole holder of such deposited security. Notwithstanding that the Depository is named in the Register as the joint holder of any deposited security, the Depository shall not be entitled to any rights (including voting and other rights), benefits, powers and privileges in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security and nor shall the Depository be subject to any liabilities, duties and obligations in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security.

Members (other than the Depository) are entitled to the surplus assets of the Company in the event that it is wound up. If the Company shall be wound up (whether the liquidation is voluntary or by the court) the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution and any other sanction required by the Bermuda Companies Act, divide among the members (other than the Depository) in specie or kind the whole or any part of the assets of the Company and whether or not the assets shall consist of properties of one kind or shall consist of properties to be divided as aforesaid of different kinds, and may for such purpose set such value as he deems fair upon any one or more class or classes of property and may determine how such division shall be carried out as between the members (other than the Depository) or different classes of members. The liquidator may, with the like authority, vest any part of the assets in trustees upon such trusts for the benefit of the members (other than the Depository) as the liquidator with the like authority shall think fit, and the liquidation of the Company may be closed and the Company dissolved, but so that no contributory shall be compelled to accept any shares or other property in respect of which there is a liability.

13. FURTHER STATUTORY AND OTHER GENERAL INFORMATION (Cont'd)

Subject to the Bermuda Companies Act, on the voluntary liquidation of the Company, no commission or fee shall be paid to a liquidator unless it has been approved by the members in general meeting. The amount of such payment shall be notified to all members (other than the Depository) at least seven (7) days prior to the meeting at which the commission or fee is to be considered.

(d) Redemption provisions

The shares do not have redemption rights.

(e) Sinking fund

The Bye-laws do not contain sinking fund provisions.

(f) Calls on shares (Bye-laws 25, 26, 28 and 33)

Subject to the Bye-laws and to the terms of allotment, the Board may from time to time make calls upon the members (other than the Depository) in respect of any moneys unpaid on their shares (whether on account of the nominal value of the shares or by way of premium). A call may be made payable either in one lump sum or by instalments. If a sum called in respect of a share is not paid before or on the day appointed for payment thereof, the person from whom the sum is due shall pay interest on the amount unpaid from the day appointed for payment thereof to the time of actual payment at such rate (not exceeding twenty per cent. (20%) per annum) as the Board may determine, but the Board may in its absolute discretion waive payment of such interest wholly or in part. The Board may, if it thinks fit, receive from any member willing to advance the same, and either in money or money's worth, all or any part of the moneys uncalled and unpaid or instalments payable upon any shares held by him and upon all or any of the moneys so advanced (until the same would, but for such advance, become presently payable) pay interest at such rate (if any) as the Board may decide.

The Memorandum of Association states that the liability of members of the Company is limited to the amount, if any, for the time being unpaid on the shares respectively held by them.

(g) Discriminatory provisions against substantial shareholder (Bye-law 167)

The Bye-laws do not contain any provisions discriminating against any existing or prospective holder of shares as a result of such shareholder owning a substantial number of shares save that for so long as the shares of the Company are listed on the Designated Stock Exchange (which includes the Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad), a substantial shareholder (having the meaning ascribed to it in the Malaysian Companies Act) has to disclose and, where applicable, has to procure its relevant beneficial owners having and interest in the Company within the meaning of Section 6A of the Malaysian Companies Act to disclose particulars of their interest in the Company and of any change in the percentage level of such interest. Such requirement to disclose does not apply to the Depository. See also Section 13.2(vii) of this Prospectus (below) for details on shareholding disclosure requirements.

(iv) Variation of rights of existing shares or classes of shares (Bye-law 10)

Subject to the Bermuda Companies Act, the special rights attached to any class of shares may be varied or abrogated either with the consent in writing of the holders of three-quarters in nominal value of the issued shares of the class or with the sanction of a special resolution passed at a separate general meeting of the holders of the shares of the class (but not otherwise) and may be so repaid, varied or abrogated either whilst the Company is a going concern or during or in contemplation of a winding-up. To every such separate general meeting and all adjournments thereof all the provisions of the Bye-laws relating to general meetings of the Company and to the proceedings thereat shall mutatis mutandis apply, except that the necessary quorum (other than at an adjourned meeting) shall be two persons at least holding or representing by proxy at least one-third in nominal value of the issued shares of the class and at any adjourned meeting of such holders, two holders present in person or by proxy (whatever the number of shares held by them) shall be a quorum and that any holder of shares of the class present in person or by proxy may demand a poll and that every such holder shall on a poll have one vote for every share of the class held by him.

The Memorandum of Association and Bye-laws do not impose more significant conditions than the Bermuda Companies Act in this regard.

(v) General meetings (Bye-laws 15A(2), 29, 55, 56, 57, 73(2), 75, 79 and 126)

Under Bermuda law, an annual general meeting of members must be convened every calendar year. All general meetings other than the annual general meeting shall be called special general meetings.

Bye-law 55 provides that an annual general meeting of the Company shall be held in each year (within a period of not more than eighteen (18) months from the date of incorporation and thereafter within a period of not more than fifteen (15) months after the holding of the last preceding annual general meeting unless a longer period would not infringe the listing requirements of the Designated Stock Exchange, if applicable). In addition, for so long as the shares of the Company are listed on the Designated Stock Exchange (which includes the Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad), the interval between the close of the Company's financial year and the date of the Company's annual general meeting shall not exceed six (6) months or such other period as may be prescribed or permitted by the Designated Stock Exchange.

For so long as the shares of the Company are listed on the Bursa Securities Malaysia Berhad, all general meetings of the Company shall be held in Malaysia.

The Directors may, whenever they think fit, convene a general meeting. In addition, subject to section 74 of the Bermuda Companies Act, in certain circumstances, members of the Company may requisition a special general meeting. Under that section, members holding at the date of deposit of the requisition not less than one-tenth of the paid up capital of the Company carrying the right of voting at general meetings of the Company shall at all times have the right, by written requisition to the Company deposited at the registered office of the Company, to require a special general meeting to be called by the Board for the transaction of any business specified in such requisition. If the Directors do not within 21 days from the date of deposit of the requisition proceed duly to convene the meeting, the requisitionists themselves may do so but any meeting so convened shall not be held after the expiration of three months from the said date.

13. FURTHER STATUTORY AND OTHER GENERAL INFORMATION (Cont'd)

Bye-law 15A(2) of the Bye-laws provides that notwithstanding any provision in the Bye-laws to the contrary, a Depositor whose name appears in the Register shall be entitled to all rights (including voting and other rights), benefits, powers and privileges and be subject to all liabilities, duties and obligations in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security registered in the Depositor's name (whether conferred or imposed by the Bermuda Companies Act, the memorandum of association of the Company or the Bye-laws, or otherwise) as if such Depositor is the sole holder of such deposited security. Notwithstanding that the Depository is named in the Register as the joint holder of any deposited security, the Depository shall not be entitled to any rights (including voting and other rights), benefits, powers and privileges in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security and nor shall the Depository be subject to any liabilities, duties and obligations in respect of, or arising from, such deposited security.

Bye-law 73(2) of the Bye-laws provides that where the Depository is a joint holder of any deposited security with a Depositor, only the Depositor may vote, either in person or by proxy, in respect of such deposited security as if he were the sole holder thereof.

Subject to Bye-law 15A(2) and Bye-law 73, no member shall, unless the Directors otherwise determine, be entitled to attend and vote and to be reckoned in a quorum at any general meeting unless he is duly registered and all calls or other sums presently payable by him in respect of shares in the Company have been paid. Further, Bye-law 126 (in accordance with the Bermuda Companies Act) provides that the resident representative is also entitled to attend and be heard at all general meetings of the Company. The Bermuda Companies Act does not contain provisions as to any documentary evidence to be produced by proxies and corporate representatives. However, such provisions may be contained in the Bye-laws. Where, for example, it is stated that the instrument of proxies must be deposited a specified number of hours before the meeting (see Bye-law 79), proxies deposited after that time cannot be admitted.

Corporate representatives are different from proxies and unless specifically required by the Bye-laws, a letter of appointment does not need to be lodged before the meeting. There are currently no such provisions in the Bye-laws.

(vi) Limitations on non-Bermuda shareholders

There are no limitations, either under Bermuda law or the Bye-laws, on the rights of owners of shares in the Company to hold or vote their shares solely by reason that they are non-Bermudians.

(vii) Shareholding disclosure requirement (Bye-law 167)

The Bermuda Companies Act does not require disclosure of shareholder ownership beyond any specified threshold. However, Bye-law 167 contains provisions to the effect that for so long as the shares of the Company are listed on the Designated Stock Exchange (which includes the Malaysia Securities Berhad), each Director shall, upon his appointment to the Board, give an undertaking to the Company that, for so long as he remains a Director, he shall forthwith notify the secretary of the Company of the particulars of the shares beneficially owned by him at the time of his appointment and of any change in such particulars, and each member shall, (a) upon becoming a substantial shareholder of the Company, (b) for so long as he remains a substantial shareholder of the Company, upon a change in the percentage level of his interest or interests in the Company and (c) upon ceasing to be a substantial shareholder of the Company, give and, where applicable, shall procure its relevant beneficial owners having an interest in the Company within the meaning of Section 6A of the Malaysian Companies Act, to give to the Company (through its Secretary) pursuant to the provisions of Division 3A of Part IV of the Malaysian Companies Act, and to the SC pursuant to the provisions of the Securities Industry (Reporting of Substantial Shareholding) Regulations 1998 of Malaysia (as amended or substituted from time to time), a notice in writing of (i) the particulars of the shares beneficially owned by him, or (ii) the particulars of the change in interests (including the date of change and the circumstances by reason of which that change has occurred), or (iii) the particulars of the date and circumstances of the cessation of substantial shareholding, as the case may be, within seven (7) days after (aa) becoming a substantial shareholder, (bb) the date of change in the percentage level of his interests, or (cc) the date of cessation, as the case may be. For the purposes of Bye-law 167(2), the term "substantial shareholder" shall have the same meaning ascribed to it in Section 69D of the Malaysian Companies Act, the term "interest" or "interests" shall have the same meaning ascribed to it in Section 6A of the Malaysian Companies Act. Bye-law 167 does not apply to the Bursa Depository.

For so long as the shares of the Company are listed on the Designated Stock Exchange (which includes the Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad), the provisions of Section 69O of the Malaysian Companies Act, giving the Company power to require disclosure of beneficial interest in its shares, shall apply.

(viii) Changes in capital (Bye-laws 2, 4 and 6)

Under the Bermuda Companies Act, changes in the capital structure of the Company require shareholder approval at general meetings.

The Bye-laws contain a distinction between a "special resolution" and an "ordinary resolution", a distinction which is not made in the Bermuda Companies Act. Under Bye-law 4, an ordinary resolution is required for certain changes to the Company's share capital such as an increase, consolidation or sub-division. An ordinary resolution is passed by a simple majority of votes cast by members, being entitled so to do, at general meetings.

With regard to a reduction of share capital or share premium account, Bye-law 6 requires a special resolution. A special resolution is one which has been passed by a majority of not less than 75 per cent (75%) of votes cast by members, being entitled so to do, present and voting at a general meeting.

(ix) Take-overs (Bye-law 168)

For so long as the shares of the Company are listed on the Designated Stock Exchange (which includes the Bursa Malaysia Securities Berhad), the provisions of Division 2 of Part IV of the Malaysian Securities Commission Act 1993 and the Malaysian Code on Take-Overs and Mergers 1998 (or their respective statutory modification or re-enactment or successor for the time being in force) shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to all take-over offers for the Company. The provisions of Division 2 of Part IV of the Malaysian Securities Commission Act 1993 and the Malaysian Code on Take-overs and Mergers 1998 or their respective statutory modification or re-enactment or successor for the time being in force shall not apply to the Depository.

(x) Transfer of Shares (Bye-laws 46 to 51)

Transfers of securities in exempted companies involving non-residents of Bermuda for exchange control purposes must receive prior approval from the Bermuda Monetary Authority. However, the Bermuda Monetary Authority has granted to all Bermuda companies with voting shares listed on an appointed stock exchange (which includes the Bursa Securities) a general permission for the issue and subsequent transfer of any securities of such companies from and/or to a non-resident of Bermuda for so long as any voting shares of such companies remain so listed.

The transfer of any listed securities or class of listed securities of the Company shall be made by way of book entry by the Bursa Depository in accordance with the rules of the Bursa Depository for the time being (the "Rules"), and the Company shall be precluded from effecting any transfer of listed securities other than through the Bursa Depository in accordance with the Rules. Instruments of transfer of any deposited security may be in the form of electronic records of the Bursa Depository relating to such transfers.

13. FURTHER STATUTORY AND OTHER GENERAL INFORMATION (Cont'd)

Subject to the Bye-laws, a member may transfer all or any of his shares (other than deposited securities) by an instrument of transfer in the form acceptable to the board of directors provided always that the Company shall accept for registration an instrument of transfer in a form approved by the board of directors.

Save as provided in the Bye-laws, there shall be no restriction on the transfer of fully paid up shares (except where required by law or the Listing Requirements (as defined in the Bye-laws)). The Bye-laws provide that no transfer shall be made to an infant or to a person of unsound mind or under other legal disability. In addition, save in respect of any deposited securities, the board of directors may, in its absolute discretion and without giving any reason therefor, refuse to register a transfer of any share (not being a fully paid up share) to a person of whom it does not approve, or any share issued under any share incentive scheme for employees upon which a restriction on transfer imposed thereby still subsists, and it may also, without prejudice to the foregoing generality, refuse to register a transfer of any share (not being a fully paid up share) on which the Company has a lien or, except in the case of a transfer to executors, administrators or trustees of the estate of a deceased member, a transfer of any share to more than three (3) joint holders. Further, the board of directors may decline to recognise any instrument of transfer (in respect of shares other than deposited securities) unless: -

- (a) a fee of such sum (not exceeding three Ringgit (RM3.00) or such other maximum sum as the Designated Stock Exchange may determine to be payable) as the Board may from time to time require is paid to the Company in respect thereof;
- (b) the instrument of transfer is in respect of only one class of share;
- (c) the instrument of transfer is lodged at the Office or such other place in Bermuda at which the register of members is kept in accordance with the Bermuda Companies Act or the Registration Office (as defined in the Bye-laws), as the case may be, accompanied by the relevant share certificate(s) and such other evidence as the Board may reasonably require to show the right of the transferor to make the transfer (and, if the instrument of transfer is executed by some other person on his behalf, the authority of that person so to do); and
- (d) if applicable, the instrument of transfer is duly and properly stamped.

If the board of directors refuses to register a transfer of any share (other than deposited securities), it shall, within one (1) month after the date on which the transfer was lodged with the Company, send to each of the transferor and transferee notice of the refusal.

The registration of transfers of shares or of any class of shares may, after notice has been given by advertisement in an appointed newspaper and in accordance with the requirements of the Designated Stock Exchange (as defined in the Bye-laws and which include the Bursa Securities) be suspended at such times and for such periods (not exceeding in the whole thirty (30) days in any year) as the Board may determine.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW

14.1 SUMMARY OF BERMUDA COMPANY LAW

Our Company is incorporated in Bermuda and, therefore, operates subject to Bermuda law. We have been designated by the Bermuda Monetary Authority as non-resident for Bermuda exchange control purposes. Set out below is a summary of certain provisions of Bermuda company law, although this does not purport to contain all applicable qualifications and exceptions or to be a complete review of all matters of Bermuda company law and taxation, which may differ from equivalent provisions in jurisdictions with which interested parties may be more familiar: -

14.1.1 Share capital

The Companies Act 1981 of Bermuda (the "Bermuda Companies Act") provides that where a company issues shares at a premium, whether for cash or otherwise, a sum equal to the aggregate amount or value of the premiums on those shares must be transferred to an account, to be called the "share premium account", to which the provisions of the Bermuda Companies Act relating to a reduction of share capital of a company shall apply as if the share premium account were paid up share capital of the company except that the share premium account may be applied by the company: -

- (i) in paying up unissued shares of the company to be issued to members of the company as fully paid bonus shares;
- (ii) in writing off:
  - (aa) the preliminary expenses of the company; or
  - (bb) the expenses of, or the commission paid or discount allowed on, any issue of shares or debentures of the company; or
- (iii) in providing for the premiums payable on redemption of any shares or of any debentures of the company.

In the case of an exchange of shares the excess value of the shares acquired over the nominal value of the shares being issued may be credited to a contributed surplus account of the issuing company.

The Bermuda Companies Act permits a company to issue preference shares and subject to the conditions stipulated therein to convert those preference shares into redeemable preference shares.

The Bermuda Companies Act includes certain protections for holders of special classes of shares, requiring their consent to be obtained before their rights may be varied. Where provision is made by the memorandum of association or bye-laws of a company authorising the variation of rights attached to any class of shares in the company, the consent of the specified proportions of the holders of the issued shares of that class or the sanction of a resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of those shares is required. The holders of not less in the aggregate than ten per cent (10%) of the issued shares of that class may apply to a Bermuda court to have the variation cancelled and, where such application is made, the variation shall not have effect unless and until it is confirmed by the court. Where no provision for varying such rights is made in the memorandum of association or bye-laws and nothing therein precludes a variation of such rights, the rights attached to any class of shares may, unless otherwise provided by the terms of issue of that class, be varied with the written consent of the holders of three-fourths of the issued shares of that class or the sanction of a resolution passed as aforesaid.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

14.1.2 Membership

Under the Bermuda Companies Act, only those persons who agree to become members of a Bermuda company and whose names are entered on the register of members of such a company are considered members. A Bermuda company is also not bound to see to the execution of any trust, whether express, implied or constructive, to which any of its shares are subject and whether or not the company had notice of such trust. Accordingly, persons holding shares through a trustee, nominee or depository will not be recognised as members of a Bermuda company under Bermuda law and may only have the benefit of rights attaching to the shares or remedies conferred by law on members through or with the assistance of the trustee, nominee or depository.

14.1.3 Financial assistance to purchase shares of a company or its holding company

A company is prohibited from providing financial assistance directly or indirectly for the purpose of an acquisition of its own or its holding company's shares unless there are reasonable grounds for believing that the company is, and would after the giving of such financial assistance be, able to pay its liabilities as they become due. In certain circumstances, the prohibition against giving financial assistance may be excluded such as where the assistance is only an incidental part of a larger purpose of the company or the assistance is of an insignificant amount such as the payment of minor costs. In addition, the Bermuda Companies Act expressly permits the grant of financial assistance where (i) the financial assistance does not reduce the company's net assets or, to the extent the net assets are reduced, such financial assistance is provided for out of funds of the company which would otherwise be available for dividend or distribution; (ii) an affidavit of solvency is sworn by the directors of the company; and (iii) the financial assistance is approved by resolution of shareholders of the company.

14.1.4 Purchase of shares and warrants by a company and its subsidiaries

A company may, if authorised by its memorandum of association or bye-laws, purchase its own shares. Shares repurchased may be cancelled or held as treasury shares. Such purchases may only be effected out of the capital paid up on the purchased shares or out of the funds of the company otherwise available for dividend or distribution or out of the proceeds of a fresh issue of shares made for the purpose. Any premium payable on a purchase over the par value of the shares to be purchased must be provided for out of funds of the company otherwise available for dividend or distribution or out of the company's share premium account. Any amount due to a shareholder on a purchase by a company of its own shares may (i) be paid in cash; (ii) be satisfied by the transfer of any part of the undertaking or property of the company having the same value; or (iii) be satisfied partly under (i) and partly under (ii). Any purchase by a company of its own shares may be authorised by its board of directors or otherwise by or in accordance with the provisions of its bye-laws. Such purchase may not be made if, on the date on which the purchase is to be effected, there are reasonable grounds for believing that the company is, or after the purchase would be, unable to pay its liabilities as they become due. The shares so purchased may either be cancelled (in which event, the company's issued, but not its authorised, capital will be diminished accordingly) or may be held as treasury shares. Under the laws of Bermuda, if a company holds shares as treasury shares, the company shall be entered in the register of members as the member holding the shares but the company is not permitted to exercise any rights in respect of those shares and no dividend or other distribution (whether in cash or otherwise) shall be paid or made to the company in respect of such shares.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

A company is not prohibited from purchasing and may purchase its own warrants subject to and in accordance with the terms and conditions of the relevant warrant instrument or certificate. There is no requirement under Bermuda law that a company's memorandum of association or its bye-laws contain a specific provision enabling such purchases and the directors of a company may rely upon the general power contained in its memorandum of association to buy and sell and deal in personal property of all kinds.

Under Bermuda law, a subsidiary may hold shares in its holding company and in certain circumstances, may acquire such shares. The holding company is, however, prohibited from giving financial assistance for the purpose of the acquisition, subject to certain circumstances provided by the Bermuda Companies Act. A company, whether a subsidiary or a holding company, may only purchase its own shares for cancellation if it is authorised to do so in its memorandum of association or bye-laws pursuant to section 42A of the Bermuda Companies Act.

14.1.5 Dividends and distributions

A company may not declare or pay a dividend, or make a distribution out of contributed surplus, if there are reasonable grounds for believing that (i) the company is, or would after the payment be, unable to pay its liabilities as they become due; or (ii) the realisable value of the company's assets would thereby be less than the aggregate of its liabilities and its issued share capital and share premium accounts. Contributed surplus is defined for purposes of section 54 of the Bermuda Companies Act to include the proceeds arising from donated shares, credits resulting from the redemption or conversion of shares at less than the amount set up as nominal capital and donations of cash and other assets to the company.

14.1.6 Protection of minorities

Class actions and derivative actions are generally not available to shareholders under the laws of Bermuda. The Bermuda courts, however, would ordinarily be expected to permit a shareholder to commence an action in the name of a company to remedy a wrong done to the company where the act complained of is alleged to be beyond the corporate power of the company or is illegal or would result in the violation of the company's memorandum of association and bye-laws. Furthermore, consideration would be given by the Bermuda court to acts that are alleged to constitute a fraud against the minority shareholders or, for instance, where an act requires the approval of a greater percentage of the company's shareholders than actually approved it.

Any member of a company who complains that the affairs of the company are being conducted or have been conducted in a manner oppressive or prejudicial to the interests of some part of the members, including himself, may petition the Bermuda court which may, if it is of the opinion that to wind up the company would unfairly prejudice that part of the members but that otherwise the facts would justify the making of a winding up order on just and equitable grounds, make such order as it thinks fit, whether for regulating the conduct of the company's affairs in future or for the purchase of shares of any members of the company by other members of the company or by the company itself and in the case of a purchase by the company itself, for the reduction accordingly of the company's capital, or otherwise. Bermuda law also provides that the company may be wound up by the Bermuda court, if the court is of the opinion that it is just and equitable to do so. Both these provisions are available to minority shareholders seeking relief from the oppressive conduct of the majority, and the Bermuda court has wide discretion to make such orders as it thinks fit.

Except as mentioned above, claims against a company by its shareholders must be based on the general laws of contract or tort applicable in Bermuda.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

A statutory right of action is conferred on subscribers of shares in a company against persons, including directors and officers, responsible for the issue of a prospectus in respect of loss or damage suffered by reason of an untrue statement therein, but this confers no right of action against the company itself. In addition, such company, as opposed to its shareholders, may take action against its officers including directors, for breach of their statutory and fiduciary duty to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the company.

The Bermuda Companies Act also provides that the Minister of Finance of Bermuda may at any time appoint one or more inspectors to investigate the affairs of an exempted company and to report on them in such manner as the Minister may direct. The inspector shall, on the completion of his investigation, report to the Minister and shall send copies of such reports to the company. However, no other person shall be informed of the nature or contents of the report save at the request of the company or on the direction of the Minister. Upon receiving the inspector's report, the Minister may require the company to take such measures as he may consider necessary in relation to its affairs or direct the Registrar of Companies in Bermuda to petition the Bermuda court for the winding up of the company.

14.1.7 Management

The Bermuda Companies Act contains no specific restriction on the power of directors to dispose of assets of a company, although it specifically requires that every officer of a company, which includes a director, managing director and secretary, in exercising his powers and discharging his duties must act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the company and exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. Furthermore, the Bermuda Companies Act requires that every officer should comply with the Bermuda Companies Act, regulations passed pursuant to the Bermuda Companies Act and the bye-laws of the company.

The Bermuda Companies Act contains no specific provision in respect of the establishment or composition of audit committees or similar committees of the board of directors of a company.

14.1.8 Accounting and auditing requirements

The Bermuda Companies Act requires a company to cause proper records of account to be kept with respect to (i) all sums of money received and expended by the company and the matters in respect of which the receipt and expenditure takes place; (ii) all sales and purchases of goods by the company and (iii) the assets and liabilities of the company.

Furthermore, it requires that a company keeps its records of account at the registered office of the company or at such other place as the directors think fit and that such records must at all times be open to inspection by the directors or the resident representative of the company. If the records of account are kept at some place outside Bermuda, there must be kept at the office of the company in Bermuda such records as will enable the directors or the resident representative of the company to ascertain with reasonable accuracy the financial position of the company at the end of each three month period, except that where the company is listed on an appointed stock exchange (as defined in the Bermuda Companies Act), there must be kept such records as will enable the directors or the resident representative of the company to ascertain with reasonable accuracy the financial position of the company at the end of each six month period.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

The Bermuda Companies Act requires that the directors of the company must, at least once a year, lay before the company in general meeting financial statements for the relevant accounting period signed on the balance sheet page by two directors of the company; however, this requirement may be waived if all of the members and all of the directors, either in writing or at a general meeting, agree that in respect of a particular interval no financial statements or auditor's report thereon need be laid before a general meeting. Further, the company's auditor must audit the financial statements so as to enable him to report to the members. Based on the results of his audit, which must be made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, the auditor must then make a report to the members. The generally accepted auditing standards may be those of a country or jurisdiction other than Bermuda or such other generally accepted auditing standards as may be appointed by the Minister of Finance of Bermuda under the Bermuda Companies Act; and where the generally accepted auditing standards used are other than those of Bermuda, the report of the auditor must identify the generally accepted auditing standards used. Subject to certain exceptions provided in the Bermuda Companies Act, the company must send to every member a copy of financial statements, prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and containing all such information and documents as required by the Bermuda Companies Act ("Financial Statements"), at least five days before the general meeting of the company at which the Financial Statements are to be tabled.

A company listed on an appointed stock exchange may send to its members summarised financial statements derived from the Financial Statements for the relevant period instead of the Financial Statements. The summarised financial statements must include a summarised report of the Financial Statements and be accompanied by the auditor's report. The summarised financial statements must be sent to members not less than 21 days before the general meeting at which the Financial Statements are to be tabled, and a copy of the summarised financial statements must be made available for inspection by the public at the company's registered office in Bermuda. The company must also make a copy of the full Financial Statements available for inspection by the public at the company's registered office. Summarised financial statements must be accompanied by a notice informing members how they may elect to receive the company's Financial Statements.

14.1.9 Auditors

At each annual general meeting, a company must appoint an auditor to hold office until the close of the next annual general meeting; however, this requirement may be waived if all of the members and all of the directors, either in writing or at the general meeting, agree that no auditor shall be appointed to the close of the next annual general meeting.

A person, other than an incumbent auditor, is not capable of being appointed auditor at an annual general meeting unless notice in writing of an intention to nominate that person to the office of auditor has been given not less than 21 days before the annual general meeting. The company must send a copy of such notice to the incumbent auditor and give notice thereof to the members not less than seven days before the annual general meeting. An incumbent auditor may, however, by notice in writing to the secretary of the company waive the foregoing requirements.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

An auditor appointed to replace another auditor must, before accepting the appointment or consenting to be appointed, seek from the former auditor a written statement as to the circumstances of the latter's replacement. If the former auditor does not respond within 15 days, the new auditor may act in any event. An appointment as auditor of a person who has not requested a written statement from the former auditor is voidable by a resolution of the shareholders at a general meeting. An auditor who has resigned or been removed, or whose term of office has expired or is about to expire, or who has vacated office, is entitled to attend the general meeting of the company at which he is to be removed or his successor is to be appointed; to receive all notices of, and other communications relating to, that meeting which a member is entitled to receive; and to be heard at that meeting on any part of the business of the meeting that relates to his duties as auditor or former auditor.

14.1.10 Exchange control

Exchange control is operated under the Exchange Control Act 1972 of Bermuda (and the regulations made thereunder) and is administered by the Bermuda Monetary Authority. Generally, any payment by a person resident in Bermuda to or for the credit of a person resident outside Bermuda will require prior approval from the Bermuda Monetary Authority.

Exempted companies are normally designated non-resident for exchange control purposes and are able to conduct their day-to-day operations free of exchange control formalities. Such companies are able to pay dividends, distribute capital, open and maintain bank accounts in any foreign currency and to acquire assets and meet all liabilities without reference to the Bermuda Monetary Authority.

Issues and transfers of securities in exempted companies involving non-residents for exchange control purposes must receive prior approval from the Bermuda Monetary Authority. However, the Bermuda Monetary Authority has granted to all Bermuda companies with voting shares listed on an appointed stock exchange a general permission for the issue and subsequent transfer of any securities of such companies from and/or to a non-resident of Bermuda for so long as any voting shares of such companies remain so listed.

14.1.11 Taxation

Under present Bermuda law, no Bermuda withholding tax on dividends or other distributions, or any Bermuda tax computed on profits or income or on any capital asset, gain or appreciation will be payable by an exempted company or its operations, and there is no Bermuda tax in the nature of estate duty or inheritance tax applicable to shares, debentures or other obligations of the company held by non-residents of Bermuda. Furthermore, a company may apply to the Minister of Finance of Bermuda for an assurance, under the Exempted Undertakings Tax Protection Act 1966 of Bermuda, that no such taxes shall be so applicable to it or any of its operations until 28 March 2016, although this assurance will not prevent the imposition of any Bermuda tax payable in relation to any land in Bermuda leased or let to the company or to persons ordinarily resident in Bermuda.

14.1.12 Stamp duty

An exempted company is exempt from all stamp duties except on transactions involving "Bermuda property". This term relates, essentially, to real and personal property physically situated in Bermuda, including shares in local companies (as opposed to exempted companies). Transfers of shares and warrants in all exempted companies are exempt from Bermuda stamp duty.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

14.1.13 Loans to directors

Bermuda law prohibits a company from (i) making loans to any of its directors (or any directors of its holding company) or to their spouse or children or to companies (other than a company which is a holding company or a subsidiary of the company making the loan) in which they own or control directly or indirectly more than a twenty per cent. (20%) interest, or (ii) entering into any guarantee or providing any security in connection with a loan made to such persons as aforesaid by any other person, without the consent of any member or members holding in aggregate not less than nine-tenths of the total voting rights of all members having the right to vote at any meeting of the members of the company. These prohibitions do not apply to anything done to provide a director with funds to meet the expenditure incurred or to be incurred by him for the purposes of the company, provided that the company gives its prior approval at a general meeting or, if not, the loan, guarantee or security is made or given on condition that it will be repaid or discharged, as the case may be, within six months from the conclusion of the next following annual general meeting if the loan, guarantee or security is not approved at or before such meeting. If the approval of the company is not given for the loan, guarantee or security as aforesaid, the directors who authorised it will be jointly and severally liable to indemnify the company for any loss arising therefrom.

14.1.14 Inspection of corporate records

Members of the general public have the right to inspect the public documents of a company available at the office of the Registrar of Companies in Bermuda which will include the company's certificate of incorporation, its memorandum of association (including its objects and powers) and any alteration to the company's memorandum of association. The members of the company have the additional right to inspect the bye-laws of a company, minutes of general meetings and the company's audited financial statements, which must be presented to the annual general meeting. Minutes of general meetings of a company are also open for inspection by directors of the company without charge for not less than two hours during business hours each day.

Except when the register of members is closed under the provisions of the Bermuda Companies Act, the register of members of a company shall during business hours (subject to such reasonable restrictions as the company may impose so that not less than two hours in each day be allowed for inspection) be open for inspection by members of the general public without charge. A company may on giving notice by advertisement in an appointed newspaper close the register of members for any time or times not exceeding in the whole thirty days in a year. A company is required to maintain its register of members in Bermuda but may, subject to the provisions of the Bermuda Companies Act, establish a branch register outside Bermuda. Any branch register of members established by the company is subject to the same rights of inspection as the principal register of members of the company in Bermuda. Any member of the public may require a copy of the register of members or any part thereof which must be provided within 14 days of a request on payment of the appropriate fee prescribed in the Bermuda Companies Act. Bermuda law does not, however, provide a general right for members to inspect or obtain copies of any other corporate records.

A company is required to maintain a register of directors and officers at its registered office in Bermuda and such register must during business hours (subject to such reasonable restrictions as the company may impose, so that not less than two hours in each day be allowed for inspection) be open for inspection by members of the public without charge. Any member of the public may require a copy of the register of directors and officers, or any part of it, on payment of the appropriate fee prescribed in the Bermuda Companies Act.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

Where a company, the shares of which are listed on an appointed stock exchange, sends its summarised financial statements its members pursuant to section 87A of the Bermuda Companies Act, a copy of the full financial statements (as well as the summarised financial statements) must be made available for inspection by the public at the company's registered office in Bermuda.

14.1.15 Winding up

A company may be wound up by the Bermuda court on application presented by the company itself, its creditors or its contributories. The Bermuda court has authority to order winding up in a number of specified circumstances including where it is, in the opinion of the Bermuda court, just and equitable to do so.

A company may be wound up voluntarily when the members so resolve in general meeting, or, in the case of a limited duration company, when the period fixed for the duration of the company by its memorandum expires, or the event occurs on the occurrence of which the memorandum provides that the company is to be dissolved. In the case of a voluntary winding up, such company is obliged to cease to carry on its business from the time of passing the resolution for voluntary winding up or upon the expiry of the period or the occurrence of the event referred to above. Upon the appointment of a liquidator, the responsibility for the company's affairs rests entirely in his hands and no future executive action may be carried out without his approval.

Where, on a voluntary winding up, a majority of directors make a statutory declaration of solvency, the winding up will be a members' voluntary winding up. In any case where such declaration has not been made, the winding up will be a creditors' voluntary winding up.

In the case of a members' voluntary winding up of a company, the company in general meeting must appoint one or more liquidators within the period prescribed by the Bermuda Companies Act for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the company and distributing its assets. If the liquidator at any time forms the opinion that such company will not be able to pay its debts in full in the period stated in the directors' declaration of solvency, he is obliged to summon a meeting of creditors and lay before the meeting a statement of the assets and liabilities of the company.

As soon as the affairs of the company are fully wound up, the liquidator must make up an account of the winding up, showing how the winding up has been conducted and the property of the company has been disposed of, and thereupon call a general meeting of the company for the purposes of laying before it the account and giving an explanation thereof. This final general meeting requires at least one month's notice published in an appointed newspaper in Bermuda.

In the case of a creditors' voluntary winding up of a company, the company must call a meeting of creditors of the company to be summoned for the day, or the next day following the day, on which the meeting of the members at which the resolution for voluntary winding up is to be proposed is held. Notice of such meeting of creditors must be sent at the same time as notice is sent to members. In addition, such company must cause a notice to appear in an appointed newspaper on at least two occasions.

The creditors and the members at their respective meetings may nominate a person to be liquidator for the purposes of winding up the affairs of the company provided that if the creditors and the members nominate different persons, the person nominated by the creditors shall be the liquidator. If no person is nominated by the creditors, the person (if any) nominated by the company shall be liquidator. The creditors at the creditors' meeting may also appoint a committee of inspection consisting of not more than five persons.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

If a creditors' winding up continues for more than one year, the liquidator is required to summon a general meeting of the company and a meeting of the creditors at the end of each year and must lay before such meetings an account of his acts and dealings and of the conduct of the winding up during the preceding year. As soon as the affairs of the company are fully wound up, the liquidator must make an account of the winding up, showing how the winding up has been conducted and the property of the company has been disposed of, and thereupon shall call a general meeting of the company and a meeting of the creditors for the purpose of laying the account before such meetings and giving an explanation thereof. This meeting requires at least one month's notice published in an appointed newspaper in Bermuda.

Within one week after the date of the meetings, or if the meetings are not held on the same date, after the date of the later meeting, the liquidator is required to send to the Registrar of Companies in Bermuda a copy of the account and make a return in accordance with the Bermuda Companies Act. The company will be deemed to be dissolved on the expiration of three months from the registration by the Registrar of Companies in Bermuda of the account and the return. However, a Bermuda court may, on the application of the liquidator or of some other person who appears to the court to be interested, make an order deferring the date at which the dissolution of the company is to take effect for such time as the court thinks fit.

14.2 SUMMARY OF PRC LAW

14.2.1 PRC Legal System

The PRC legal system is based on the PRC Constitution and is made up of written laws, regulations and directives. Decided court cases do not constitute binding precedents. The National People's Congress of the PRC ("NPC") and the Standing Committee of the NPC are empowered by the PRC Constitution to exercise the legislative power of the state. The NPC has the power to amend the PRC Constitution and to enact and amend primary laws governing the state organs, civil and criminal matters. The Standing Committee of the NPC is empowered to interpret, enact and amend laws other than those required to be enacted by the NPC. The State Council of the PRC is the highest organ of state administration and has the power to enact administrative rules and regulations. Ministries and commissions under the State Council of the PRC are also vested with the power to issue orders, directives and regulations within the jurisdiction of their respective departments. Administrative rules, regulations, directives and orders promulgated by the State Council and its ministries and commissions must not be in conflict with the PRC Constitution or the national laws and, in the event that any conflict arises, the Standing Committee of the NPC has the power to annul such administrative rules, regulations, directives and orders.

At the regional level, the people's congresses of provinces and municipalities and their standing committees may enact local rules and regulations and the people's government may promulgate administrative rules and directives applicable to their own administrative area. These local laws and regulations may not be in conflict with the PRC Constitution, any national laws or any administrative rules and regulations promulgated by the State Council. Rules, regulations or directives may be enacted or issued at the provincial or municipal level or by the State Council of the PRC or its ministries and commissions in the first instance for experimental purposes. After sufficient experience has been gained, the State Council may submit legislative proposals to be considered by the NPC or the Standing Committee of the NPC for enactment at the national level.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

The power to interpret laws is vested by the PRC Constitution in the Standing Committee of the NPC. According to the Decision of the Standing Committee of the NPC Regarding the Strengthening of Interpretation of Laws (全国人民代表大会常务委员会关于加强法律解释工作的决议) passed on 10 June 1981, the Supreme People's Court has the power to give general interpretation on application of laws in judicial proceedings apart from its power to issue specific interpretation in specific cases. The State Council and its ministries and commissions are also vested with the power to give interpretation of the rules and regulations which they promulgated. At the regional level, the power to give interpretation of regional laws is vested in the regional legislative and administration organs which promulgate such laws. All such interpretations carry legal effect.

14.2.2 Judicial System

The People's Courts are the judicial organs of the PRC. Under the PRC Constitution (中华人民共和国宪法) and the Law of Organisation of the People's Courts of the People's Republic of China (中华人民共和国人民法院组织法), the People's Courts comprise the Supreme People's Court, the local people's courts, military courts and other special people's courts. The local people's courts are divided into three levels, namely, the basic people's courts, intermediate people's courts and higher people's courts. The basic people's courts are divided into civil, criminal, administrative and economic divisions. The intermediate people's courts have divisions similar to those of the basic people's courts and, where the circumstances so warrant, may have other special divisions (such as intellectual property divisions). The judicial functions of people's courts at lower levels are subject to supervision of people's courts at higher levels. The people's procuratorates also have the right to exercise legal supervision over the proceedings of people's courts of the same and lower levels. The Supreme People's Court is the highest judicial organ of the PRC. It supervises the administration of justice by the people's courts of all levels.

The people's courts adopt a two-tier final appeal system. A party may before the taking effect of a judgment or order appeal against the judgment or order of the first instance of a local people's court to the people's court at the next higher level. Judgments or orders of the second instance at the next higher level are final and binding. Judgments or orders of the first instance of the Supreme People's Court are also final and binding. If, however, the Supreme People's Court or a people's court at a higher level finds an error in a final and binding judgment which has taken effect in any people's court at a lower level, or the presiding judge of a people's court finds an error in a final and binding judgment which has taken effect in the court over which he presides, a retrial of the case may be conducted according to the judicial supervision procedures.

The PRC civil procedures are governed by the Civil Procedure Law of the People's Republic of China (中华人民共和国民事诉讼法) (the "Civil Procedure Law") adopted on 9 April 1991 and amended on 28 October 2007. The Civil Procedure Law contains regulations on the institution of a civil action, the jurisdiction of the people's courts, the procedures in conducting a civil action, trial procedures and procedures for the enforcement of a civil judgment or order. All parties to a civil action conducted within the territory of the PRC must comply with the Civil Procedure Law. A civil case is generally heard by a court located in the defendant's place of domicile. The jurisdiction may also be selected by express agreement by the parties to a contract provided that the jurisdiction of the people's court selected has some actual connection with the dispute, that is to say, the plaintiff or the defendant is located or domiciled, or the contract was executed or implemented in the jurisdiction selected, or the subject-matter of the proceedings is located in the jurisdiction selected. A foreign national or foreign enterprise is accorded the same litigation rights and obligations as a citizen or legal person of the PRC. If any party to a civil action refuses to comply with a judgment or order made by a people's court or an award made by an arbitration body in the PRC, the aggrieved party may apply to the people's court to enforce the judgment, order or award. There are time limits on the right to apply for such enforcement. Where at least one of the parties to the dispute is an individual, the time limit is one year. If both parties to the dispute are legal persons or other entities, the time limit is six months. According to the amendment dated 28 October 2007, the time limit for application of enforcement by both individuals and entities will be unified to two years with effect from 1 April 2008.

A party seeking to enforce a judgment or order of a people's court against a party who or whose property is not within the PRC may apply to a foreign court with jurisdiction over the case for recognition and enforcement of such judgment or order. A foreign judgment or ruling may also be recognised and enforced according to PRC enforcement procedures by the people's courts in accordance with the principle of reciprocity or if there exists an international or bilateral treaty with or acceded to by the foreign country that provides for such recognition and enforcement, unless the people's court considers that the recognition or enforcement of the judgment or ruling will violate fundamental legal principles of the PRC or its sovereignty, security or social or public interest.

14.2.3 Arbitration And Enforcement Of Arbitral Awards

The Arbitration Law of the PRC (中华人民共和国仲裁法) (the "Arbitration Law") was promulgated by the Standing Committee of the NPC on 31 August 1994 and came into effect on 1 September 1995. It is applicable to, among other matters, trade disputes involving foreign parties where the parties have entered into a written agreement to refer the matter to arbitration before an arbitration committee constituted in accordance with the Arbitration Law. Under the Arbitration Law, an arbitration committee may, before the promulgation by the PRC Arbitration Association of arbitration regulations, formulate interim arbitration rules in accordance with the Arbitration Law and the PRC Civil Procedure Law. Where the parties have by an agreement provided arbitration as a method for dispute resolution, the parties are not permitted to institute legal proceedings in a people's court.

Under the Arbitration Law, an arbitral award is final and binding on the parties and if a party fails to comply with an award, the other party to the award may apply to the people's court for enforcement. A people's court may refuse to enforce an arbitral award made by an arbitration committee if there were mistakes, an absence of material evidence or irregularities over the arbitration proceedings, or the jurisdiction or constitution of the arbitration committee. A party seeking to enforce an arbitral award of a foreign affairs arbitration body of the PRC against a party who or whose property is not within the PRC may apply to a foreign court with jurisdiction over the case for enforcement. Similarly, an arbitral award made by a foreign arbitration body may be recognised and enforced by the PRC courts in accordance with the principles of reciprocity or any international treaty concluded or acceded to by the PRC.

In respect of contractual and non-contractual commercial-law-related disputes which are recognised as such for the purposes of PRC law, the PRC has acceded to the Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Award ("New York Convention") adopted on 10 June 1958 pursuant to a resolution of the Standing Committee of the NPC passed on 2 December 1986. The New York Convention provides that all arbitral awards made by a state which is a party to the New York Convention shall be recognised and enforced by other parties to the New York Convention subject to their right to refuse enforcement under certain circumstances including where the enforcement of the arbitral award is against the public policy of the state to which the application for enforcement is made. It was declared by the Standing Committee of the NPC at the time of the accession of the PRC that (1) the PRC would only recognise and enforce foreign arbitral awards on the principle of reciprocity and (2) the PRC would only apply the New York Convention in disputes considered under PRC laws to be arising from contractual and non-contractual mercantile legal relations.

14.2.4 Company Law

On December 29, 1993, the Standing Committee of the Eighth National People's Congress adopted the Company Law, which came into effect on July 1, 1994 and was amended for the first time on December 25, 1999, the second time on August 28, 2004 and the third time on October 27, 2005. The newly amended Company Law of PRC (hereinafter referred to as the "Company Law") has been promulgated and became effective from January 1, 2006.

"Company" is a corporate legal person, which possesses the status of a legal person in PRC and be liable for its debts to the extent of all its assets. The term "company" as mentioned in the PRC Company Law refers to a limited liability company (the "LLC") or a joint stock limited company (the "JSLC"). For a LLC, the shareholders bear the responsibility to the company within the capital contributions they have paid. For a JSLC, whose registered capital is divided into shares of equal par value, the shareholders bear responsibility to the shares held by them.

(i) Incorporation

The minimum registered capital for a LLC is RMB30,000 while the registered capital threshold for setting up a JSLC is RMB 5 million. However, if any specific laws or regulations other than the Company Law prescribe a relatively higher amount of minimum registered capital, such provisions shall prevail.

The amount of the initial capital contributions made by all shareholders shall be no less than 20% of the registered capital (provided that the first capital contribution for a LLC cannot be less than the required minimum registered capital (i.e. RMB30,000)) and the rest shall be paid off by the shareholders within 2 years as of the incorporation day; as for an investment company, it may be paid off within 5 years.

A shareholder may make capital contributions in currency, in kind or intellectual property right, land use right or other "non-cash assets" that are transferable and can be monetarily valued. The amount of the capital contributions in currency shall be no less than 30% of the registered capital of the LLC.

(ii) Corporate Governance

The shareholders' meeting, which comprises all the shareholders, is the authority of the company and is the meeting of the company's shareholders to elect the company's directors and supervisors, or review reports on the company's business results, prospects, and plans. Generally, the shareholders exercise their voting rights at the shareholders' meeting based on the shares held by them.

The Board of Directors is a body of elected or appointed persons who jointly oversee the activities of a company and is responsible for the shareholders' meeting. As for a LLC with relatively few shareholders or is relatively small, it may have an executive director assuming the duties of the board to replace the Board of Directors. The executive director may concurrently hold the post of the company's manager.

The Board of Supervisors is a body of elected or appointed persons who jointly check the financial affairs of the company and supervise the acts of the directors and senior managers. No director or senior manager is permitted to concurrently hold the post as a supervisor. The board of supervisors shall include representatives of shareholders and representatives of the employees. A LLC, which has relatively few shareholders or is relatively small, may have 1 or 2 supervisors, and does not have to establish a Board of Supervisors.

14. SUMMARY OF LAW (Cont'd)

Directors, supervisors, and senior managers shall owe the company a duty of care and loyalty. Directors and senior managers should not, by taking advantage of their powers, accept bribes or other unlawful incomes, or misappropriate the company's property. Further, directors, supervisors and senior managers would be liable for compensation, if they violate PRC laws and regulations or the company's articles of association in performance of their duties and thus cause loss to the company.

(iii) Financial Allocations

Pursuant to the Company Law, the company's profit, after paying enterprise income tax and allocating 10% of after-tax profits to the statutory reserve, are available for profits distribution. The allocation may cease when the statutory reserve exceeds 50% of registered capital. The profit distribution shall not be conducted unless the losses of previous fiscal years have been made up.

(iv) Protection of Shareholders

The Company Law aims to enhance the protection of shareholders, especially minority shareholders. Set out below is a brief summary of certain provisions with regard to the rights and remedies of shareholders.

(v) Company's Books and Records

Shareholders are entitled to check and copy the company's articles of association, financial reports, minutes of the shareholders' meetings, and resolutions of the board of directors and the supervisory board. Shareholders of a LLC are also entitled to inspect the company's accounting books and records.

(vi) Shareholders' Meetings and Resolutions

Shareholders holding at least 10% of the voting rights of the company are entitled to convene a shareholders' meeting themselves if both the board and the supervisory board are unable to convene such a meeting or if they fail to do so. The Company Law also grants the shareholders the right to revoke any shareholders' or board resolution by an application to the court if either (i) the convening procedures or voting methods adopted in the relevant meeting violate the law or the company's articles of association; or (ii) the resolution itself runs counter to the company's articles of association.

(vii) Exit right of LLC Shareholders

The Company Law makes it much easier for a shareholder of a LLC to transfer his or her share to an external party. Such shareholder is only required to obtain consent from 50% of the existing shareholders. Other shareholders who do not respond within 30 days are deemed to have agreed on the share transfer. If over 50% of the rest of the shareholders disagree with the share transfer, those disagreeing shareholders would need to purchase the shares. If the disagreeing shareholders refuse the share purchase, they will be deemed to have agreed on the transfer.

On the other hand, shareholders of LLC are entitled to ask the company to repurchase their shares at a reasonable price if they oppose: (i) the company's decision not to distribute dividends for five consecutive profit-making years; (ii) any merger or spin-off of the company or the disposition of the company's major assets; or (iii) the renewal of the company's term of operation upon its expiration or the amendment to the company's articles of association upon the occurrence of any reason for dissolution as specified in the articles.

(viii) Right to dissolve a company

When a company meets serious difficulty during its operation, if the continued existence of the difficulty will cause heavy loss to shareholder's interest, and such difficulty cannot be solved by other means, the shareholders holding at least 10% of the voting rights of the company are entitled to plead the court for dissolving the company.

(ix) Derivative Suits

Any shareholder of a LLC or shareholders of a JSCL holding more than 1% of the shares for more than 180 consecutive days may bring legal proceedings in their own name on behalf of the company against (i) directors, supervisors, or senior managers who fail to comply with the laws and regulations or the company's articles of association in the course of performing their duties, causing loss to the company; or (ii) third parties infringing the company's rights and interests, causing loss to the company.

14.2.5 Labour Law

We are subject to the Labour Law of the PRC (中华人民共和国劳动法), pursuant to which companies must enter into employment contracts with their employees, based on the principles of equality, consent and agreement through consultation. Companies must establish and effectively implement a system of ensuring occupational safety and health, educate employees on occupational safety and health, preventing work-related accidents and reducing occupational hazards. Companies must also pay for their employees' social insurance premium.

The principal regulations governing the employment contract is the PRC Employment Contracts Law (中华人民共和国劳动合同法) (the "Employment Contracts Law"), which was promulgated by the Standing Committee of the NFT on 29 June 2007 and came into effect on 1 January 2008. Pursuant to the Employment Contracts Law employers shall establish employment relationship with employees on the date that they start employing the employees. To establish employment, a written employment contract shall be concluded, or employers will be liable for the illegal actions. Furthermore, the probation period and liquidated damages shall restricted by the law to safeguard employees' rights and interests.

14.2.6 Environmental Protection Regulations

Pursuant to the Environmental Protection Law of the PRC (中华人民共和国环境保护法) adopted by the Standing Committee of the NPC on 26 December 1989, the Administration Supervisory Department of Environmental Protection of the State Council sets the national guidelines for the discharge of pollutants. The provincial and municipal governments of provinces, autonomous regions and municipalities may also set their own guidelines for the discharge of pollutants within their own provinces or districts in the event that the national guidelines are inadequate.

Any company or enterprise which causes environmental pollution and discharges polluting materials that endanger the public should implement environmental protection methods and procedures into their business operations. This may be achieved by setting up a system of accountability within the company's business structure for environmental protection; adopting effective procedures to prevent environmental hazards such as waste gases, water and residues, dust powder, radioactive materials and noise arising from production, construction and other activities from polluting and endangering the environment. The environmental protection system and procedures should be implemented simultaneously with the commencement of and during the operation of construction, production and other activities undertaken by the company. Any company or enterprise which discharges environmental pollutants should report and register such discharge with the Administration Supervisory Department of Environmental Protection and pay any fees imposed for the discharge. A fee may also be imposed on the company for the cost of any work required to restore the environment to its original state. Companies which cause severe pollution to the environment are required to restore the environment or remedy the effects of the pollution within a prescribed time limit.

If a company fails to report and/or register the environmental pollution caused by it, it will receive a warning or be penalised. Companies which fail to restore the environment or remedy the effects of the pollution within the prescribed time will either be penalised or have their business licences terminated. Companies or enterprises which have polluted and endangered the environment must bear the responsibility for remedying the danger and effects of the pollution, as well as to compensate for any losses or damages suffered as a result of such environmental pollution.

Among others, in regard to the Malaysian Company Law, various changes have been proposed by the Corporate Law Reform Committee of Malaysia in the Review of Companies Act, 1965 – Final Report which, if implemented, would result in some of the provisions referred to below in the Malaysian Companies Act being modified. Prospective investors are advised to seek independent legal advice.

	does not provide in respect of any Director as such any privilege or advantage not accorded to the employees to which such scheme or fund relates.	The Act and Bye-laws do not provide any express provisions in respect of the responsibility of a "nominee director" as provided for under section 132(1)(E) of the Malaysian Companies Act. Under the Act, "director" is defined to include inter alia "any person occupying the position of director by whatever name called".  There is also the prohibition against the improper use of company's property, position, corporate opportunity or competing with the company under section 132(2) of the Malaysian Companies Act in respect of which there is no equivalent express provisions in the Act or Bye-laws.
Director's Fiduciary Duties	Every director by virtue of his office occupies a fiduciary position with respect to the company. The fiduciary relationship is similar to that of a principal and agent relationship. This relationship arises from the fact that a company being an artificial person can only act through the agency of natural persons. Such being the case, a company can only act through agents, i.e., its individual directors and its board of directors, and it is the duty of the "agents" to act in the best interest of the company. Accordingly, a director is not permitted to place himself in a situation where his interests conflict with his duty. Duties are imposed upon any person who becomes a director of a company and breaches of these duties may lead to criminal or civil liabilities. Such duties are governed by statute and common law. Such duties include (without limitation) duties of care and skill and duties to act in good faith in the best interest of the company, as well as the statutory duty under the Section 132 of the Malaysian Companies Act to exercise his powers for a proper purpose and in good faith and in the best interest of the company. Disqualification of Directors
In Section 125 of the Malaysian Companies Act, a person who is an undischarged bankrupt shall not take part in or be concerned in the management of a corporation without the leave of the Malaysian Court. Section 130 provides that where a person is convicted whether within or outside Malaysia of any offence in connection with the promotion or management of a corporation or of any offence involving fraud dishonesty punishable on conviction with imprisonment for three months or more or of any offence under Sections 132 or 303 of the Malaysian Companies Act, that person cannot be a director or promoter of or be in any way whether directly or indirectly concerned or take part in the management in Malaysia of the corporation without leave of the Malaysian courts.	Section 94(1) and (2) of the Act:  (1) If any person being an undischarged bankrupt in any country acts as director of, or directly or indirectly takes part in or is concerned in the management of, any company except with the leave of the Court, he shall be liable on conviction on indictment to imprisonment for a term of two years, or on summary conviction to imprisonment for a term of six months or to a fine of five hundred dollars or to both such imprisonment and fine:  Provided that a person shall not be guilty of an offence under section 94 of the Act by reason that he, being an undischarged bankrupt, has acted as director of, or taken part or been concerned in the management of, a company, if he was on the appointed day acting as a director of that company or taking part or being concerned in its management.	The possible disqualifications of directors as specified in both the Malaysian Companies Act and the Listing Requirements appear to be provided for substantially in the Bye-laws. Annual General Meetings
In Section 143 of the Malaysian Companies Act, a general meeting of every company to be called the "annual general meeting" shall in addition to any other meeting be held once in every calendar year and not more than fifteen months after the holding of the last preceding annual general meeting, but so long as a company holds its first annual general meeting within eighteen months of its incorporation, it need not hold it in the year of its incorporation or in the following year.	Section 71(1) of the Act: A meeting of members of a company shall be convened at least once in every calendar year; this meeting shall be referred to as the annual general meeting.  Section 70(6) of the Act: A statutory meeting called under section 70(1) of the Act shall be deemed to be the annual general meeting for the year in which it is convened.	The Act and Bye-laws contain provisions on annual general meetings.  It is uncertain as to whether section 152A of the Malaysian Companies Act can apply to an annual general meeting.
Section 152A Malaysian Companies Act provides the following:-  (1) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Malaysian Companies Act or the articles of the company, a resolution in writing signed by or on behalf of all persons for the time being entitled to receive notice of, and to attend and vote at general meetings of a company shall, for the purposes of the Malaysian Companies Act and the articles of the company, be treated as a resolution duly passed at a general meeting of the company and, where relevant, as a special resolution so passed.  (2) Any such resolution shall be deemed to have been passed at a meeting held at the registered office on the date on which it was signed by the last member.  (3) This section shall not be construed as requiring that the persons signing a resolution under this section shall sign the same document containing the resolution; but where two or more documents are used for the purpose of obtaining signatures under	Bye-law 55: An annual general meeting of the Company shall be held in each year other than the year in which its statutory meeting is convened at such time (within a period of not more than eighteen (18) months from the date of incorporation and thereafter within a period of not more than fifteen (15) months after the holding of the last preceding annual general meeting unless a longer period would not infringe the Listing Requirements, if applicable) and (subject to Bye-law 56 below) at such place as may be determined by the Board. In addition, for so long as the shares of the Company are listed on the Designated Stock Exchange, the interval between the close of the Company's financial year and the date of the Company's annual general meeting shall not exceed six (6) months or such other period as may be prescribed or permitted by the Designated Stock Exchange.  Please also refer to section 77A of the Act and Bye-law 84 as set out under the heading "Shareholders' Action by Written Consent".	Bye-law 60(1): Members may participate in any
