17. Prospects for Current Financial Year

The International Monetary Fund ("IMF") in their latest publication of World Economic Outlook(WEO) Update January 2022 projected that The global economy enters 2022 in a weaker position than previously expected. As the new Omicron COVID-19 variant spreads, countries have reimposed mobility restrictions. Rising energy prices and supply disruptions have resulted in higher and more broad-based inflation than anticipated, notably in the United States and many emerging market and developing economies. The ongoing retrenchment of China's real estate sector and slower-than-expected recovery of private consumption also have limited growth prospects.

Global growth is expected to moderate from 5.9 in 2021 to 4.4 percent in 2022—half a percentage point lower for 2022 than in the October World Economic Outlook (WEO), largely reflecting forecast markdowns in the two largest economies.

In view of the above, the Group will continue efforts to strengthen the cost control strategies and will also enhance its operation and marketing strategies in order to achieve higher production efficiency and to maximize profit margins.
