3. Prospects

The outlook for the global economy in 2013 remains challenging and uncertain. Nevertheless, the Group's strategies remain focused on leveraging on its extensive customer network, competitive products, quality services and a wider range of products to enhance its competitive edge. To address the impact of the impending implementation of minimum wage in 2013, the Group is expending considerable effort in production automation as well as undertaking research and development to improve the productivity and efficiency of its production lines. We believe that these investments will significantly reduce our dependence on manual labour. In the near term, the Group expects the main raw material prices of natural rubber and synthetic rubber to trend at current levels as the ongoing Euro-zone economic crisis, weak growth in major rubber consuming countries such as the United States, China and India coupled with rising natural rubber production in the Asean region will continue to affect the raw material prices.

Barring unforeseen circumstances, the Board believe that the Group's prospects for the financial year ending 30 September 2013 remains favourable
